A 22-year-old California swimming instructor, making the second start in her life as a marathon swimmer, captured the second annual Victoria-Port Angeles Strait swim in the early hours of this morning.

Myra Thompson won $2,500 first prize for a swim that confounded the experts, and only an adverse tide which pushed her back from within a mile of Ediz Hook prevented her from capturing the full $5,000 prize for the swim.

But she established at least one new record for the now famous Strait by staying in the water 16 hours, 31 minutes, which was nearly four hours longer than ever before.

She was 1.5 miles from the Washington shore when taken out at 4:34 a.m. today. She could have gone on longer, but the tide was taking her out again and her coach decided to call it quits.

All others of the 17 who started the swim had quit four hours previously but Myra staged a dramatic middle-of-the-night effort to cover the full 18.3 miles to Ediz Hook.

The swim started at 12:04 noon, Sunday, from Horseshoe Bay where a crowd estimated at 7,000 gathered.

Second and third places, also won by women, went to Amy Hiland, 36, Long Beach, Calif., $1,250, and Victoria swimmer Billie Benedict, 27, whose total training came to about two hours. She won $750.

Fourth prize, $500, went to Gene Perle, 30, Long Beach lifeguard.

AND SO, 16 HOURS AND 31 MINUTES LATER---$2,500

Ben Laughren Out of the Money

Last year winner Ben Laughren, 35, Victoria, finished just out of the money in fifth place. He had set the former record time of 12 hours, 25 minutes, also for an incomplete swim.

If she had completed her swim—thwarted in the pre-dawn half-light a stone's throw off Ediz Hook—Myra Thompson would have been the first woman to swim the strait north to south.

Striking a consistent 54 per minute, Miss Thompson steadily worked her way from fourth position early in the race, taking the lead gradually as three men ahead of her dropped out one by one.

There were six women and 11 men in the marathon.

Minutes before Myra's team decided she should come out (green flare from her attending vessel was fired at 4:35 a.m.)

However, with an incomplete Jaycees aboard the pilot tug

Island Champion hastily considered paying $5,000 full first prize money if Myra was able to land anywhere on the Washington coast.

Rules state a landing must be within five miles either side of the tip of Ediz Hook, at Port Angeles.

However, with Myra the sole swimmer remaining and an ebb tide carrying her steadily to the westward and likely beyond the five-mile limit, it was discussed that full money might be paid if she was able to make shore.

An executive member later said a full meeting of the Junior Chamber would have been required to authorize such a change.

Total prize money of $10,000 would have been split between first four swimmers if first place had completed the full distance.

However, with an incomplete first, total money was halved.

'Toughest Swim I've Ever Been On'

"It's a tough swim, the toughest I've ever been on," the San Francisco girl said later.

One of the early withdrawals, Paul Herron, 36, Sacramento, described the swim as "about the greatest swim in the world."

Despite almost perfect weather conditions throughout the marathon, except for slight windy periods, swimmers fell victims to the cold and lazy tides.

Courage, laid out by Capt. Ellice Cavin of Island Tug and Barge Ltd.'s Island Champion, the navigation vessel, was designed to attempt a straight-across attack by all swimmers who chose to follow.

Flotilla started on a flood less than a foot in rise, rode an ebb of about the same fall for about six hours and then tried to make headway southward on the new flood into Ediz Hook.

The expected boot failed to materialize, water remained glassy smooth and swimmers remaining at about midnight were progressing strictly through their own efforts.

The next ebb began setting boats and swimmers on the course westward toward the mouth of the Strait.

First casualty was Allan Small, 33, Victoria, who left the marathon at 1:55 p.m. Sunday with a leg cramp and severe headache. He covered about 1.75 miles and was in the water 1 hour, 51 minutes.

Between 3:50 p.m. and 5:40 p.m. five more left the swim, one of them Anita Long, 18, Victoria, who went straight back to Fishermen's wharf instead of checking out through the Champion.

It was estimated she covered two miles in her two hours, 58 minutes in the Strait. This was about average speed for most competitors.

A favorite, Jason Giganos, 47, Athens, Greece, turned into a disappointment when he came out with paralysis from the waist down at 3:35 p.m.

Paul Herron, 36, Sacramento, went up to take first from Charles Grover, 32, Roxbury, Mass., who led almost from the start, then Gene Perle, 30, Long Beach, overtook both of them.

He held first place from about 3 p.m. to 10:25 p.m. when he was forced out by delirium.

He said later his mistake was in overtaking his friend Herron and Grover.

"I sure wanted to win. Everybody does," said Perle. "I know where I made my mistake. I should have laid back behind Grover and Herron. I couldn't stand to see them in front of me."

"They were battling it out and I just poured it on. I should have held to 49 strokes. I was doing 56-58. . . I was stupid. I should have swum my own race."

Freed Rogers, 31, South San Francisco, said when he came out at 3:09 p.m. "I could feel the cold going right through me. My arms were just getting heavier and heavier. . . . So I figured since I'm here for the money and I was so far behind I might as well quit." He was about four miles off Beacon Hill.

He wants to try again.

Myra and Amy Hiland, who stroked at about 58 per minute, stayed tied for second for a while, with Ben Laughren and Billie Benedict in fourth and fifth for a good part of the afternoon.

Ann Burian, 44, Vancouver, and Janice White, 20, Detroit, brought up the rear.

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters)—About 100 Moslems have been killed and many others injured in a weekend of fierce clashes between Algerian insurgent bands and security troops, French authorities said here today.

SWIM SIDEBARS

The really big story of the Jaycees swim this year was the victory of the fair sex.

Six of the 11 contestants were women, but three of them took the first three spots in the prize money.

Juan de Fuca kept its title as "the Mount Everest of swims" which Florence Chadwick tied to it in 1954. The collection of swimming talent in the race was considerable and the fact no one got across even though the weather was good demonstrated the toughness of the crossing.

It was rather interesting that in swim weekend, Cliff Lumsdon, the record holder, was picking up a $5,000 check for winning the Owen Sound swim in Ontario, while Flo Chadwick, who started it all in the Strait, was setting up a new record for the Bristol Channel in England.

After 12 hours, 21 minutes in the strait, Billie Benedict was still able to step smartly from her companion boat to the Island Champion. The bronzed swimmer was offered a "rubdown" to smooth swimming kinks. Billie refused. "The great Benedict does not need a rubdown," she said.

A school of porpoises sported about the guide boats of swimmers Ben Laughren and Billie Benedict as dusk began to settle immediately in front of Miss Benedict, but she plugged doggedly on, never breaking her swim stride.

Charles Grover, ex-swim team captain at Harvard, gave a no-holds-barred explanation of his defeat by the Strait of Juan de Fuca at 6:55 p.m. "I just didn't have the guts to stay in there," he said aboard the navigation boat Island Champion.

Several spectators whiled away the long hours of the swim by dropping fishing lines over the sides of their boats. But the biggest catch, a coho weighing about 10 pounds, was made by Dave McMillan, who rowed for big Ben Laughren.

PRAYER FOR TODAY
We crave forgiveness, O God, for the ease with which we take granted the bounties of nature, the heritage of our fathers, the friendship of our neighbors, and the privileges of life in this fair land. Grant that our felt gratitude may find expression in the impacts we make upon our fellows; in Christ's name. Amen.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE DENIES VISIT SET

LONDON (AP)—A Buckingham Palace spokesman says there is no visit to Canada on Princess Margaret's agenda.

The News of the World reported Sunday that the princess would pay her first visit to Canada next year to attend centennial ceremonies for the Province of British Columbia.

The palace spokesman said: "No plans are at present being made for Princess Margaret to visit Canada."

Earlier a spokesman at Government House here and L. J. Wallace, chairman of B.C. Centennial Committee, issued denials that B.C. had received an affirmative reply to its invitation to Princess Margaret to visit B.C. during the centennial year. (The story originated from an Ottawa correspondent of Toronto, London and other newspapers.)

Police Arrest 31 in Crackdown; Check of Saanich Parks Urged

Wild-driving youths aren't laughing at police any longer. Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock reported today the force's general crackdown on traffic Saturday night netted 31 violators. Three cars were impounded.

The offences ran all the way from failure to signal turns to one of impaired driving. Although quiet until about 11 p.m., Saturday's crackdown produced a heavier run than usual.

Complaints that "wild ones"—irresponsible youths with cars—were laughing at police, brought the remark from Chief Blackstock: "They don't have anything to laugh about once they're caught. They have to suffer for it then."

He said Saturday night's offences were committed by both youths and adults but declined to disclose the ratio. Most were picked up in the Yates, View, Fort, Blanshard and Douglas areas but the crackdown was city-wide.

By-Elections For Sept. 9

Voters in three British Columbia ridings will go to the polls Monday, Sept. 9, in a "little provincial election."

An order-in-council and proclamation fixing the polling date in Burnaby, Delta and Cariboo was signed this morning.

Nomination day will be Thursday, Aug. 29.

A four-way fight in each of the ridings is expected.

The Burnaby seat was made vacant by the death last January of veteran CCF member Ernest Winch.

Cariboo riding became vacant in April with the death of Agriculture Minister Ralph Chetwynd.

Delta has been represented since 1952 by Speaker of the House Thomas Irwin, who resigned this spring to enter federal politics. (He won in Burnaby-Richmond).

Present standing in the legislature is Social Credit 37, CCF 9, Liberal 2, Labor 1, and the three vacant seats, making a total of 52.

Part of a crowd estimated at 7,000 who saw 17 marathon swimmers take off from Horseshoe Bay Sunday noon in a try at $5,000 first prize for reaching Port Angeles. People dotted cliffs and points until flotilla was beyond shouting distance. There were about 50 boats of all kinds in the fleet, which included an RCN diving tender for scout ship and emergency vessel. (Times Photo.)

Tito Spearhead Of Red's Drive

Yugoslav Chief to Forge Links With Western Socialist Groups

BELGRADE (AP)—President Tito was pictured here today as the spearhead of a new Soviet drive to forge closer links with the non-Communist socialist parties of the West.

Experts on Yugoslav relations indicated this is a major result of Tito's surprise meeting in Romania last week with Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev.

Moscow Radio described the meeting as the firming up of an agreement on "concrete forms of co-operation" between the Communist parties of Russia and Yugoslavia.

Experts here believe Khrushchev went further and agreed to a "new relationship" among socialist parties of the world—non-Communist as well as Communist.

BONDS LOOSENED

They said Khrushchev showed willingness to permit "a greater degree of freedom" for some East European countries and stressed his recognition of the Yugoslav-Communist party's full independence from Moscow dictation.

The Tito-Khrushchev meeting was their first since the Soviet boss won his struggle with Georgi Malenikov, V. M. Molotov and other Soviet leaders. One of the counts against the Malenikov-Molotov group was that they opposed the reconciliation with Tito.

Observers here saw the new Khrushchev-Tito accord as a move by the Soviet party chief to allay suspicions held by foreign socialist parties of the Kremlin.

They suggested Tito would occupy a "very important place" in the new set-up on grounds that only he could bring the socialists into the Soviet camp.

BACKFIRE ONCE

Khrushchev made overtures for friendship with the western Socialist parties in the spring of 1956, but his attempt backfired.

Socialist leaders of 14 western countries joined in rejecting any form of political co-operation with the Kremlin and invited the Reds to offer "adequate proof of a genuine change in the principles and policies of Communist dictatorship."

Western diplomats have suggested the latest Tito-Khrushchev meeting could herald the most significant Soviet-Yugoslav accord since Tito broke with Stalin in 1948.

They believe it would go beyond the accord worked out two years ago, when Khrushchev journeyed to Belgrade to apologize for the 1948 rift. Last year's rebellions in Poland and Hungary—and Tito's criticism of the Soviet action—imposed a severe strain on that accord.

Bulganin on Way Out As Russian Premier?

WASHINGTON (AP)—It appears the famous Kremlin travelling pair of "B and K" has lost its "B".

Premier Nikolai Bulganin is not travelling with Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, at least for the time being. He's staying home. Khrushchev went without Bulganin to Romania last week to meet with Yugoslav President Tito. He's going to East Germany soon for an official visit—also without Bulganin.

Has Bulganin's physical health suffered recently, forcing him to take a rest cure, or is his political health poor?

After Khrushchev purged V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov from the Soviet Communist party leadership in late June, rumors circulated that Bulganin had not been very firm in support of Khrushchev during the crisis.

JUMPED SIDES

Quite possibly if Bulganin thought things were going against Khrushchev, he went over to the opposition temporarily, later back-tracking in time to save his job for the time being.

Perhaps significantly, Soviet press reports of the speeches at the meeting of the Moscow party organization following Khrushchev's purge gave no space to any remarks by Bulganin.

Observers who studied films of the Khrushchev-Bulganin visit to Czechoslovakia last month reported that Bulganin seemed to be acting as if he were definitely on the outside of things.

It may be that Bulganin, 62, is simply not vigorous enough to keep up with the bouncy Khrushchev, 63. As Moscow dispatches suggest, the premier may be tired.

But it also may be that Khrushchev is getting ready to dump his old travelling partner and get a new one.

in three parks and greater use of the paddle in punishing teenage criminals.

Saanich Reeve Arthur Ash said establishing a 10 or 10.30 curfew in three sludged parks should be considered by the Victoria-Saanich parks and beaches committee.

He singled out Beaver-Elk Lake, Mount Tolmie and Mount Douglas parks as hide-outs of delinquency among juveniles where police are hampered in controlling the situation by dense woods.

Moral offences by juveniles are reported on the upswing in these parks.

"A curfew wouldn't be necessary in the other parks because they are relatively free of that sort of trouble," he added.

Mr. Ash, chairman of the Saanich police commission, said acquisition of a police "ghost" car would be up to the commission. The car could be used to cut down the highway speeding problem in the municipality.

INCREASE OF 8

Saanich Police Chief W. A. Pearson reported juvenile cases of all types in 1955 totalled 55. Last year there were 63 cases. This incidence jumped to 82 during the first seven months of the current year including 48 traffic cases involving juveniles, 10 more than recorded in all of 1956.

Chief Pearson advocated greater use of the paddle in punishing juveniles sentenced by courts for offences.

One official said some juveniles have been in the Bran-nan Lake detention home seven or eight times.

"For many of them, they are treated better there than they are at home," the official said. "If they faced the paddle each time they wouldn't be too anxious to return."

Chief Blackstock reported the incidence of juvenile offences in Victoria's parks was relatively small and would not merit curfew restrictions.

War of Nerves By Cuba Rebels

HAVANA (AP)—Partisans of rebel leader Fidel Castro launched a war of nerves today against the government of President Batista.

They broke into hundreds of private telephone conversations in Havana shouting, "We have taken the presidential palace," "long live Fidel Castro."

The interruptions started a flood of rumors that Batista's government had collapsed.

Simultaneously, rebels distributed thousands of leaflets in Havana and nearby towns and cities calling upon Cubans to stay away from work today.

Early reports indicated, however, most workers were flocking back to their jobs throughout Cuba. They faced loss of their jobs if they didn't.

TAKE OVER TV STATION

Artists and technicians at one of Havana's privately owned television stations went on strike and police took over the establishments. These stations and all newspapers have been strongly censored since Batista suspended constitutional guarantees for 45 days.

Threat of Veto To Rights Bill Propaganda

(From Times News Services)

WASHINGTON — Congressional Democrats put on pressure today to deliver to President Eisenhower, for his acceptance or rejection a civil rights bill he has criticized severely.

A high administration official said Sunday Eisenhower will veto the bill if it reaches him in the form in which the Senate is expected to pass it in the next day or two.

Democrats were publicly opposed to this threat. But several of them indicated they might go along on the double clear privately they are in the theory that they could get the bill killed by veto or—failing in opportunity to veto—the first civil rights bill Congress thus would have passed in 80 years. To do this, they would have measure they might get in the to have help from southern next session of Congress.

Nixon Accused of 'Plot'

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is leading a "concerted propaganda campaign" of veto threat against the Senate version of the Civil Rights Bill.

"This talk about the Senate refusal to waive the right of trial by jury being a dilution of the bill is political propaganda," Johnson told reporters.

He was asked about the weekend report from high sources that President Eisenhower would veto the bill if it should reach the White House in the form evolved in the Senate.

"It looks like a concerted propaganda campaign headed by the vice-president, who heard very little of the discussion on the bill," Johnson replied.

He cited the vice-president's comment that it was a "sad day" when the jury trial amendment was attached to the right-to-vote provision last week.

"It's a rather rare thing for the vice-president to start lecturing the

GRAHAM GETS ANGRY

Delinquent Youths Blamed on Parents

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says parents are to blame for juvenile delinquency.

He said Sunday night "we are beginning to reap what has been sown" in parental failure to discipline children and teach them religion.

Graham talked about teenagers' problems at his New York crusade meeting in Madison Square Garden. He told a capacity crowd of 19,200 that he will speak especially for teenagers for one week starting next Sunday.

The evangelist said "every thinking New Yorker is disturbed and deeply concerned" over juvenile delinquency. He spoke against a background of rising youth violence that has claimed three lives in the city in little more than a week.

Hungarians Would Assist Countrymen

MONTREAL (CP)—Hungarian refugees here who came to Canada via Yugoslavia appealed today in an open letter to the immigration department for sympathy towards their efforts to help the countrymen they left behind.

In their letter they thanked the Canadian government and others who helped them "step on to the free earth of Canada."

But they said their happiness was limited by leaving thousands of their countrymen who are uncertain whether they will be returned to Communist Hungary or granted life in a free country.

"If we can help through the Canadian government and the free press so that the whole world will know their urgent need," the letter concludes, "then we will know that we have done our duty to our countrymen."

'Shoot Him' Urge Bluebloods For Peer Who Scored Queen

LONDON (UP)—Commoners, bluebloods and British newspapers blasted 33-year-old Lord Altrincham today for criticizing the Queen's English. Two peers suggested he be "shot."

The words "God Save Our Queen" were smeared in three-foot-high letters on the wall of Altrincham's ancestral home and the word "our" was underlined heavily.

Lord Altrincham touched off the squabble when he said in a magazine article last week that the Queen's speaking style "is frankly a pain in the neck."

Furthermore, he said, it gives her the personality "of a priggish schoolgirl, captain of a hockey team (or) a recent candidate for confirmation." He added new fuel to the fire Sunday when he swung his broadsword at the Queen's entourage and said "Many of the courtiers are a second-rate lot, lacking gumption and imagination."

The Earl of Strathmore, a cousin of the Queen, was one of the first to strike back.

"If I had a gun I would shoot this Altrincham myself," he said.

A similar comment came from the Duke of Argyll, hereditary master of the Queen's household.

"The man who wrote it ought to be shot," he said.

The Daily Mirror reported the state-owned British broadcasting system would instruct the Queen on how to use a teleprompter to avoid the use of any "stilted" language in her Christmas broadcast to the Commonwealth. The teleprompter is an off-scene device used by TV speakers who feed prompting but don't want to be shown reading from a script.

Newspapers throughout Europe commented that Altrincham's criticism was not polite. They said he had hit below the belt because the Queen could not possibly reply—it wouldn't be dignified.

The fact that the Queen never answers public criticism brought a new blast against Buckingham Palace today from the mass-circulation Daily Herald.

"Are the palace authorities aware of the change in public reaction to royalty?" the Herald asked. "We doubt it. Their public relations are notoriously bad."

"They are responsible for the material in royal speeches, the fatuity of which provokes Lord Altrincham's sarcasm."

"They seem to be incapable of learning what the Duke of Edinburgh is fully capable of teaching them—the art of expanding royal dignity by taking a lively, intelligent interest in the lives of the people."

It added that the Queen had shouldered her tasks with courage and that she deserved better support from the palace authorities "who remain hide-bound by dead tradition."

World Peace Keynote Of Border Ceremony

BLAINE, Wash. (AP)—Standing in the shadows of the International Peace Arch, more than 7,000 Canadians and Americans Sunday heard Howard Pyle, personal representative of President Eisenhower, urge the "waging of peace" as hard as a war is waged.

Pyle said this is the policy of the American administration.

"By every resource at our command we are waging peace," he said, describing economic and direct military aid to foreign nations as the waging of peace—a counter action to a third world war.

"Peace, however delightful, is not a thing to be gained without waging the necessary movement throughout the world to make it a fact."

The occasion was the annual Peace Arch celebration by Canadian and American war veterans and school children, organized by the International Peace Arch Association.

The presidential representative warned of a lethargy which tends to develop in time of peace.

"There never will be any real peace until we have become as successful in developing character in men as we have become successful in creating devices that destroy men," he continued.

The American-Canadian unguarded border to what he termed the "common character and understanding of the citizens of the two nations."

FAMOUS CELLIST, 80, MARRIES STUDENT, 21

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—The marriage of 80-year-old cellist Pablo Casals to a 21-year-old music student was disclosed today by the judge who married them here last Saturday.

Casals, acknowledged as the world's greatest cellist, left San Juan Sunday with his bride, Marta Montanez of San Juan, to arrange for his Prades music festival in southern France next year.

The festival was not held as usual this year because Casals had a heart attack in April. Doctors said he recovered quickly. Casals' wife died in 1951.

Superior Court Judge Martin Almodovar of San Juan said he officiated at the quiet ceremony held in Casals' home just outside the Puerto Rican capital city.

Miss Montanez met Casals three years ago after winning a scholarship to study the cello with him at Prades.

Inferiority Complex Hurts Canada—Fowler

LAKE COUCHICHING, Ont. (UP)—Canadians are bound on one side by the northern lights and on the other by an inferiority complex, R. M. Fowler, who headed the recent royal commission on radio and television, said here Saturday.

"Self-depreciation" is a dominant Canadian trait, he told the opening meetings of the 1957 Couchiching conference.

However, said Fowler, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper association, relations between French-speaking and English-speaking Canadians had "greatly improved" while in international councils the name of Canada stands high.

"Our economic advance has probably been faster than any other country in the world. It is the basis for justifiable national pride," Fowler said.

"But, he said, Canada "must soon come to grips with its serious lack of balance" in trade with the United States. Also, Canada should take into account the distortion of the value of the Canadian dollar in relation to other currencies.

Fowler said that despite a great upsurge of interest in education and cultural problems, he felt Canada lacked "something—a composition and harmony."

"We should give more atten-

Our Neighbors' Money

A FEW DAYS AGO THE United States Government undertook a huge sale of bonds to refund $24 billions of maturing national debt. For the first time since 1933, the Government was forced to pay as much as 4 per cent interest on the nation's prime security.

Interest rates in the United States are not softening. They are hardening. The price of money has advanced simply because the demand for it is increasing and the Federal Reserve Board (the counterpart of the Bank of Canada) refuses to increase the total money supply at a time of inflationary pressure. And the latest cost-of-living figures, a tenth successive increase in as many months, show that the inflationary pressure is still powerful.

These facts in the United States no doubt will interest the Canadian Government as it considers an attempt to reduce interest rates here.

If the Canadian Government is right in believing that interest rates must be pushed down, then the American Government is wrong. So is the Senate committee now studying this problem. So, of course, is the Bank of Canada and the Canadian Government's other expert advisors.

Assuming, however, that the Government is right and the experts here and in the United States wrong, how are Canadian interest rates to be reduced?

Since they are presently fixed by the law of supply and demand, as borrowers compete for the existing supply of money, it follows that they can be reduced, under existing conditions, only if the supply of money is increased.

It is quite easy, technically, to increase the supply of money. The Government has merely to borrow from the Bank of Canada and by this loan to put new money into circulation.

It may be much more difficult, however, to persuade the Bank to loan (i.e. create) this money, and the Bank is not bound by law to grant the Government's request. The principle of the Bank's independence is directly involved in this question.

If the Government is unable to persuade the Bank and unwilling to coerce it, there is another method by which relatively cheap money can be secured for the municipalities, for home builders and others in need.

The Government could directly borrow money, on its own bonds, in the general money market. It can borrow much more cheaply than other borrowers because its credit is higher than that of any other institution or individual.

Having borrowed at something like 4 per cent or lower, the Government could then hand on this money as a loan to those whom it wishes to assist, with no extra charge. Thus the municipalities, for example, could borrow indirectly at the low interest rate available only to the Government.

The former Government considered such a plan but rejected it as unworkable; for once a central government begins to lend money to some authorities or persons while refusing it to others it will be involved immediately in quarrels with the disappointed applicants. To distribute the state's favors will always be an extremely difficult business.

The present Government may well decide, on the other hand, that some policy of this sort is imperative. If so, it must borrow a segment of the existing money supply for its purposes and this will reduce the remaining supply. The pie will be that much smaller.

Since there will be less money available, to everyone else, after the Government has taken a segment of the pie, and since the demands of private borrowers will remain strong, interest rates will be forced up still higher. There is no way out of that so long as governments and individuals are competing for a limited money supply.

The real question which the Government must face, therefore, if it wants money to be cheaper, is whether the money supply should be increased, at the cost of more inflation when prices show no sign, so far, of falling.

The Government must also consider a second question: If our interest rates are driven down by one means, or another, regardless of inflationary consequences, and if American rates remain high, why should the Canadian investor buy Canadian instead of more profitable American bonds?

How, in short, without drastic restrictions on foreign exchange and the investor's freedom of choice, can this nation afford to hold its interest rates far above or below those of our neighbors?

Mr. Fleming's answers to these questions will be awaited with interest.

News From China

LIKE THOSE OF THE LATE MR. Dooley, another eminent American, the lifelong principles of Mr. Dulles sometimes can be altered to suit. He has altered them slightly, for example, in the case of American newspaper correspondents who wish to visit China.

At first the secretary of state imposed an absolute ban on the American newspapers' attempt to report the affairs of China—this though other countries like Canada and Britain allowed their newspapermen to visit China without hindrance.

Such an outcry in the American press followed Mr. Dulles' ban that he has been compelled to reconsider it. Now he says that a "limited number" of American correspondents can visit China.

At once the American press asks why it is right for a few hand-picked reporters to cover the largest nation in the world and wrong for others to go there.

It would be a consistent, though an unwise policy, to prevent any Chinese news getting into the American press. It is no policy at all to limit this news to dribbles. And for the American Government to decide what reporters shall visit China, while barring others, is a direct invasion of press freedom.

Besides, it is ridiculous. It makes a mockery of the United States' demand for freedom of information in the communist countries. It compels the American people to rely mainly for their news of the vast Chinese revolution on foreign correspondents, at least one of them, the representative of the Toronto Globe and Mail. Surely a policy—or rather the lack of a policy—so absurd, indefensible and unpopular in the United States cannot continue much longer.

Scandal in the Lords

AS IF BRITAIN DIDN'T HAVE problems enough, the power of women (which should never be underestimated) has raised its charming head—of all places in the House of Lords.

Until the last few days the House of Lords could be regarded as the last safe resort of the human animal; male. Long ago, the House of Commons, the law courts and the sacred barber shops were safe masculine resorts, guaranteed if not by law at least by unquestioned custom. Those citadels fell, one by one, to the invader in skirts.

But the Lords stood firm and unconquerable. No female voice was ever heard within those jail-male precincts.

Then all at once something went wrong.

To the horror of the incredulous occupants, a woman doctor, permitted to enter the Lords as an expert advisor to Lord Cohen on some medical legislation, had the temerity to answer a question aloud. To be sure, she said only two words but they were enough to shatter the female silence of all the ages since the first Parliament of the Plantagenets.

And hardly had the Lords recovered their composure when, from the galleries came the trained actress's voice of Lady Laurence Olivier, alias Vivien Leigh. Admittedly Miss Leigh was speaking in a good cause, the preservation of an ancient London theatre, but that was no excuse. Not in the Lords.

The interruption, reports the more sober press of London, caused "quite a stir" and it was instantly extinguished by firm men in uniform.

That news is reassuring. Some men, even if there are very few of them in these days of clattering democracy, remain safe from the universal invader.

FROM WASHINGTON By STEWART ALSOP

Eisenhower's Fading Aura

SOMETHING mysterious but important, which cannot be precisely described or explained, has happened in recent weeks. Until very recently, a kind of celestial aura, a quality of being larger than life, surrounded Dwight D. Eisenhower, like "The divinity that doth hedge a King." But in recent weeks, the aura has rather suddenly begun to wear off.

You could sense the fading of the aura at the President's most recent press conference, for example. The President has had—and for that matter still has—the kindest press that any President has enjoyed in this country. Until very recently, the almost motherly attitude of the press towards the President made his press-conferences rather dull affairs.

But last Wednesday the President was asked a number of questions with distinct "Have you stopped beating your wife?" overtones. At least twice—when he was asked about his personal finances and about his appointment of the unfortunate Maxwell H. Gluck as ambassador to Ceylon—the President became visibly angry.

There is plenty of other evidence of the new tendency to treat the President more like a human being and less like a sovereign to be admired at a respectful distance. It is no longer shocking, or even very surprising, to find such words as "vacillating" or "wishy-washy" used in the friendly press to describe the President's handling of such matters as the budget, or the school bill, or civil rights.

First Term: No Criticism

Throughout his first term, even the most partisan Democrats on Capitol Hill shied away from criticism of the President himself—when they wanted to criticize, they were careful to substitute the euphemism "The Administration" for the Eisenhower name. When old Sen. Matthew Neely of West Virginia attacked the President personally in 1955, he was shunned like a leper, and quickly subsided into silence.

But now criticism of the President is becoming almost fashionable in the Congress. Sen. Robert Kerr's aspersions on the President's intelligence were only a symptom. Northern Democrats like Senators Richard Neuberger and Paul Douglas have already served clear notice that they intend to hold the President personally responsible for the weakening of the civil rights bill, and in the House, he has been personally blamed for the defeat of the school bill.

The repeated rebuffs the President has suffered in his attempts to recruit men for the highest posts in his administration are another symptom of his fading aura. Twenty-one businessmen, for example, have blandly refused the offer to head the Foreign Aid Agency. It is a good bet that almost every one of the twenty-one, offered a similarly important post four years ago, would have mentally snapped to attention and accepted.

There are a number of reasons for the fading of the aura. There is simple familiarity, which has a way of causing auras to fade. There is the fact that the bluish off the rose for the more conservative businessmen, who dreamed of a return to the virtually tax-free heaven of the nineteen twenties, and whose disillusion has been reflected in the muted anti-Eisenhower revolt among Republicans in Congress. Finally, of course, there is the fact that Dwight Eisenhower is the first constitutional lame duck President in history.

Does all this add up to the dreary prospect of a period of Congressional dominance, with the President isolated in the White House, amiable but powerless?

Up to the President

The answer lies with the President. For the most important reason for the fading of the Eisenhower aura also lies with the President. His newly-acquired habit of staging public debates with himself on such issues as the budget and civil rights has indeed given an impression of wishy-washiness, which has greatly undermined his personal authority. But a President can almost always get what he wants when he really goes after it.

The President proved this himself when he went to the country to defend his foreign aid and defence budgets. As a result of this counterattack, he stood an excellent chance of getting substantially what he wanted—until, amazingly, he cut the ground out from under his own supporters in the budget fight by asking far less than the sum he had previously designated as the bedrock minimum for defence.

The fact is that a President, lame duck or no, has immense power if he is willing to use it. Above all, he has the power of choosing, or at least profoundly influencing the choice of his party's next Presidential candidate. The question is whether President Eisenhower, being the kind of man he is, will use the power he has. If he does, the fading of the Eisenhower aura is likely to be a temporary phenomenon.

Courage of Faith

Though I completely disagree with Mrs. A. B. Marshall in most of her views, and I do that indeed—I warmly support her and all who urge that the centennial memorial by the children be a statue of Our Lord Jesus Christ in the grounds of the Legislative Buildings, or in some high, conspicuous place for tourists and our own people to see easily, and so be reminded of the fact that we are a Christian nation and therefore provincially; that Christ is the cornerstone of our faith. Rightly, all in Canada can worship according to their own beliefs—but as a nation—we are Christian and should have the courage for that faith.

'More, Give Me More'

One cannot help but be disturbed at this continual demand for "More, more, give me more," which has thoroughly permeated all members of our society until it is difficult to see any relief.

I have often stated this last 10 years, as I see it the churches and all they advocate and stand for appear to be the logical pathway to relief. But is it, when we see our Archbishop Sexton alluding to the fact that he was unable to balance his budget and immediately receiving a response of an additional $1,000 to take care of that.

To expect relief from our governments, federal or provincial? Why, they are chiefly responsible for this very evil of selfishness which is eating at the very vitals of our economy, so they, or their "government" conceived conciliation boards are just a misnomer.

The last provincial election was held Sept. 10 and by Sept. 22 (Victoria Times) our Premier announced increases, his salary went from $9,000 to $15,000 and others rose substantially. Sept. 27 (5 days later) our civil servants announced they, too, were demanding an increase and the outcome you know.

For Fluorides

In answer to C. M. Cadwallader re fluoridation: If Mr. Cadwallader prefers to accept the twisted words of Russian propagandists rather than listen to the voices of vast numbers of experts from Canada, the United States and Britain regarding the benefits of fluoridation, it is his prerogative.

I, for one, cannot wait until his kind can be educated to this great discovery while we and our children pay the price of rotting teeth. For the last seven months our family has been receiving fluorides on prescription from our dentist, eight drops of which can be added to any beverage. The baby right up to grandfather receives his daily decay-preventing fluorides inexpensively.

Middle East 'Gopher Hunt'

By TOM HENSHAW, Associated Press Newsfeatures Writer

KEEPING track of events in the volatile Middle East is a bit like hunting gophers—watch one hole and the little fellow is bound to pop out of another.

While most eyes were trained on the seemingly endless Egypt-Israel-Syria quarrels, the latest Mid-East explosion came in the Sultanate of Muscat and Oman, a vaguely known land on the coastal rim of the Arabian peninsula.

Muscat and Oman, where rebel tribesmen in the hinterland rose against the British-backed sultan, is one of several states arranged precariously around the ill-defined borders of the peninsula giant, Saudi Arabia.

Two geographical features dominate these backwash lands, orienting them east to India rather than west to the Mediterranean, as is the case with other Middle East states.

One is the Rub' al Khali, a sandy waste so vast and barren that even desert-dwelling Arabs call it the "Empty Quarter." It forms an effective barrier between most of the coastal states and Saudi Arabia. Because of it, national boundaries are vague or non-existent.

The other is the Arabian Sea, which with its major arms, the Persian Gulf and the Red Sea, have for centuries provided easy access by water to the Far East and Africa.

In the past, Ethiopia and the British based in India have wielded considerable influence in this backyard of the Arab world. Much of its population boasts varying degrees of Negro and Indian ancestry.

Coastal States

There are nine of these coastal states. Reading counterclockwise: Yemen, Aden, the East and West Aden Protectorates, Muscat and Oman, Trucial Oman, Qatar, Bahrain and Kuwait.

Important political considerations in the area are the influence of the British, the production—or possibilities of production—of oil, and the ambitions of Saudi Arabia.

Aden is a British crown colony. All the others, except Yemen, are British protectorates (i.e., Britain handles their foreign affairs, advises on local administration and, in some cases, subsidizes).

Three of the states—Trucial Oman and the Aden Protectorates—are merely loosely assembled sheikhdoms lumped together for British administrative purposes. They have no national unity.

It takes quite a while to get into the habit of remembering—each day—to add the fluorides to everyone's milk or coffee, and that is why fluorides on prescription would never be effective as a public health measure. People can't remember. Fluoridating the public water supply—someday when enough people become educated—is the only answer.

'Mismanagement'

I was fortunate enough to hear a Norwegian and an Austrian give their views on Canada and the USA as compared with their own countries.

Both were solid citizens and after a two year survey had reached these conclusions regarding Canada: Big and beautiful, rich in all the necessities of life, yet woefully lacking politically and economically. Too many governments, too much overlapping, the army of civil servants together with essentials such as army, air-force, navy, jails, social services, mental homes, hospitals, police, subsidies, federal TV, pensions, both old age and retirement. (The list is endless) was far too heavy a burden for the average man to carry.

Both could not understand why a Norwegian or an Austrian would leave the organized stability of his homeland where modern conveniences and pleasure were the rule, strikes almost unheard of, for the chance existence of Canada.

Both Norway and Austria, they pointed out had only about one third of the natural resources per capita that Canada was endowed with. I asked if they could sum up in one word what was wrong with Canada. After a long pause, "Mismanagement."

Food for thought.

Search for Truth

Thoughtful people can appreciate Mr. Pepper's letter, "Science and Faith" (July 29) as it emphasizes how much is accepted as truth without serious investigation in "medical, educational . . . and even theological practices and beliefs." His final comment about insisting upon testing food supplied to the brain is decisive.

But we must distinguish between theology and theologians. Centuries ago had the theologians consulted their Bibles, the bitter controversy on "flat or round earth" would not have developed, as at Isa. 40:22 the Creator is described as "He that sitteth above the circle of the earth."

Showing how modern physiologists are catching up with Bible truth, Dr. White, U.S.A. heart specialist, discussing modern heart therapy and a low fat diet, at a gathering of heart specialists (after President Eisenhower's heart attack) quoted from Leviticus 7:22-24, where Moses at God's command ordered the children of Israel to avoid any fat from the ox, the sheep or the goat.

It was precisely because "theological practices and beliefs" were so contradictory, that some 80 years ago a small group of earnest Bible students started a thorough and systematic research of the Bible itself, as so graphically described in the book "The March of Faith." America's best seller for 1937 (obtainable locally). The group soon discovered that not the Bible, but the theologians were at fault.

Echoes of Gunfire

The border between Yemen and Britain's Aden protectorates, "settled" in 1934, echoed to gunfire early this year. The autocratic, 62-year-old King of Yemen, the Iman Ahmed, claims part of Aden, largely because it might produce oil.

The Buraimi Oasis, near the vague desert junction of Saudi Arabia, Oman and Trucial Oman, has been disputed since 1952 when Saudis and British-occupied Oman troops shadow-boxed in the area. A neutral commission in 1955 failed to reach a settlement.

The latest troubles are based on a long-standing feud between Sultan Said bin Taimur of Muscat and Oman and Sheikh Ghalib bin Ali, the former Iman (holy man) of Oman.

The Iman, defeated by the sultan in a brief skirmish in 1953, returned from exile and captured a large section of inland desert around the Akhdar Hill town of Nazwa before the British wheeled in rocket-firing jets.

Of particular significance in the Oman dispute is the fact the rebels were equipped with automatic weapons and land mines, supplied, the British think, by Saudi Arabia.

Britons also are reported irked with American oilmen in Saudi Arabia because they feel Saudi agitation in the coastal states may be an attempt to extend American oil concessions on the peninsula.

The Sketchbook

IF I could be born again, I'd like to be born an artist who could draw or paint. For I'd sell my soul to be able to make quick sketches of what I see or hear or feel.

Words are so tedious and so tiresome to manipulate that they often defeat me altogether. I'm sure that to draw or paint would be more satisfying.

My pictures wouldn't be grand at all. Many of them, I fancy, would be little details that could be included in a larger work.

I'd like for instance, to catch the look of battered, dog-eared hymnbook and knee-worn hassock of plush in a polished light-colored pew.

I'd like to catch the praying figure and twinkling lights by ornate statue in Roman Catholic cathedral. Or the open-mouthed faces of choristers as they parade down the aisle.

I'd like to make a detailed drawing of the creases and coarse-grained leathery skin at the back of the necks of men who work upon the land.

The bunioned boot, the trodden-over heel, the sagging knees in pants that need a press, a masculine mouth sucking on some evil pipe, the slimy look of a chewed cigar—these are the sort of details that I note with rather remorseless eye!

The expensive store window with simple, unprinted dress and necklace flung down with casual care; the lower grade store all cluttered up with cut-rate bargains each marked with eye-catching, slashed-to-sell price ticket; the vacant city lot with kitty-corners path straggling through the coarse, yellowed grass of summer; the green lawns, flowered borders and fine dresses of smart garden party; the shuffling gait of mumbling drunk as he weaves down slummy street and sways towards every lamp post—each of these would find its way into the sketch book that I'll never make.

I'd make a sad but sympathetic picture of a fair young sailor sitting, head bowed in fast sleep, in a movie theatre as the rest of the audience filed out after the late show. With a sly little touch of humor, I'd show the empty crotch of gin in his lap. (Oh, it was so sad. He looked about 17. I guess he thought he was going to have a gay time, and the poor thing simply couldn't take it. Boys will try to be men, I suppose. Sitting there watching a movie, and all the time he was just as good as any movie scene himself.)

I'd make a charming picture of the young girl going to her first real ball in frothy ballerina dress. I'd get it all—the little pink nylon mitts, the simple strand of pearls around the youthful throat, the newly-bought evening bag, the suppressed excitement and mother hovering with last words of pride and good advice. ("Mind you crinoline, my dear, and be careful how you sit. Hold it with your hands. Not too obviously, my pet.")

I'd certainly draw the proud, excited relatives peering through the window of maternity ward nursery while the nurse with mask holds up the little crimson-faced bundle. (A candid camera set up inside this window could, with some skilful cutting, produce a short that would reduce a whole theatre to helpless laughter.)

I know that this is trivial stuff. But it's humanity. And I often feel that nowadays, on this continent especially, we are so busy worshipping at the shrine of the Machine, that we don't pay half enough attention to humanity.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

A Mug's Game

LONDON—Lord Brabazon, one of the leading lights in greyhound racing, has been complaining bitterly that this is a sport shunned by royalty.

Though it is a pastime followed by millions since the 1920s, the Queen has never been to a greyhound track.

"It fosters the idea," says Lord Brabazon, "that there is something not quite right about dog racing, that it isn't respectable."

He's not far off the mark. It only just manages to rate the title of "sport," being, with most of its adherents just an excuse for gambling.

As a gambling pitfall it became so serious that the government had to step in just after the war and put a curb on it.

So many housewives were squandering their housekeeping money on the dogs that the government forbade nightly meetings and restricted each track to two a week.

Most of the tracks are about a quarter of a mile around football fields, like Wembley and Chelsea, and no sooner is the football game over than workmen rig up the floodlights over the track and preparations are made to replace the football crowd with a greyhound crowd.

There are six dogs in each race and not only is it nothing as a spectacle—it's not even a good gamble.

Most of the races are only one circuit of the track and since the dogs can hit up to 40 miles an hour the whole thing's over in a flash.

And from the gambling point of view there's little to commend it. Since there are only six in the field, odds are naturally low. They are kept even lower by the fact that there is no system of handicapping.

The dogs are graded according to their ability, the fast dogs always racing against each other and the slower ones being grouped together.

In this way you never get a rank outsider pulling off a surprise win at big odds, as in horse racing.

It baffles me how so many English people can devote so much time and effort to figuring out on which dog they will bet two shillings in order to win four shillings.

Having sixpence on the Pools with a chance of winning £75,000 makes sense. Or even better—a one-pound Premium Bond that qualifies you for a £1,000 prize every month and you can have your pound back any time you feel like it!

Betting the dogs is a mug's game, without the redeeming feature of there being a chance of a big payoff.

Canadian Uncle Aids Actress Escape Reds

ROME (Reuters) — A shapely blonde actress known as Romania's Marilyn Monroe escaped 10 days ago from her road company in Venice with the aid of her Canadian uncle, the press reported Sunday.

Nina Dicorescu, 39, was reported locked in her hotel room here, terrified Communists would kidnap her after her dramatic motorboat rescue through Venetian canals.

Rome newspapers named her rescuer as Andrean Popovic, an uncle living in Montreal. They said he flew to Italy last month when he learned his niece would perform at a theatrical festival in Venice.

After making contact with Milan police and being assured Nina would be granted asylum in Italy, he went to Venice to engineer the escape.

The plan was for Nina to plead illness and decline to attend a party to which the Romanian company was invited.

Eight Nuns Killed In Crash of Truck

PAMPLONA, Spain (AP) — A truck carrying 20 women overturned Sunday and eight were killed. Most of the victims were believed to be nuns of the Good Shepherd Order. The group was on the way back to Pamplona from an excursion to a nearby sanctuary.

It worked perfectly. When her colleagues left the hotel, she slipped out the back door and joined her uncle in a dark street.

A fast motorboat sped them through the Venetian canals to the main railroad station where they caught the express for Milan.

Three days ago Nina and her uncle came to Rome to obtain an entry visa from the Canadian Embassy here.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

How to Get Limit From Squash Family

The versatility of a garden is amazing, and to know its full possibilities one must live with it a few years.

Take squash, for instance, and its relative, the marrow.

Easterners are inclined to grow squash for the sole purpose of maturing the fruit on the vines. The fruit is then stored at the appropriate temperature and used during the winter months.

In our temperate island climate we find that a whole vine of squash will rarely mature. However, by practicing a form of thinning we can usually assure a crop for storage and young fruit for use at once.

Thus we have our cake during January and February when we need it most, and yet are able to eat it now while it is fresh!

To accomplish this, we cut the one first fruit which comes on each plant. This encourages further production, and usually there will be many formed shortly afterwards. These are allowed to remain on the vine.

The ends of the trailing growths are nipped off when three or four fruit are seen. Other shoots will appear which will be nearer the root system, and then fore nearer to the source of food supply.

Feeding and watering is necessary at this time to aid the plants to maintain the effort of growth, and the young fruit which appear now may, or indeed should, be used while small.

Thus a twofold purpose is filled, delicious eating of tender squash, or marrow, cooked in its own juices in a covered casserole, and the sweet, dry, meaty goodness of baked squash in the winter.

Each has its own value as food, and is quite different one from the other.

MALAYA GETS FREEDOM IN FINAL CEREMONIAL

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters) — British and Malayan representatives today took the last constitutional step necessary for Malaya to receive full independence.

Eight Malayan sultans, in silver-encrusted sarongs and carrying gold ceremonial swords, gave their approval to the new constitution which goes into effect when this British protectorate gains its freedom Aug. 31.

Signing for the British government was Sir Donald MacGillivray, the high commissioner, dressed in the epaulettes and sword of the colonial service full dress.

Malaya's ninth sultan, the sultan of Johore, was away in London. His son signed the agreement on his behalf.

At the same time, the 10 men revoked the agreement by which Britain assumed a protectorate over the Malay states in 1948.

Rocks Regain Throne

T-Men Chances For Second Spot Depend on Irish

Victoria Shamrocks, back on the Intercity Lacrosse League throne after absence of one year, may still have a lot to say about who finishes in the runner-up berth.

Shamrocks, who clinched the league crown by whipping the defending champion Nanaimo Timbermen, 16-10, before a capacity crowd at Nanaimo Saturday night, will be in a position to help the T-Men in their bid for second place when they host New Westminster at Memorial Arena Wednesday.

If the Salmonbellies get by the Rocks they will clinch the second spot and have the advantage of an extra home game in their semi-final playoff with Nanaimo. But a Shamrock victory will give the Timbermen a chance to finish ahead of the "Bellies by whipping them at New Westminster. Thursday, and winding up the league schedule with a win over Vancouver, Saturday.

COSTLY WIN

Saturday's victory was a costly one for the Rocks, who lost defenceman Jack Howse for the rest of the season and had Alan Gill injured.

Howse, returning to action after an eye injury, broke a bone in an ankle in the final quarter and will have his cast for at least six weeks. Gill was clipped by Don Ashbee in the third period and after taking on the Nanaimo forward in an exchange of punches, received eight stitches around an eye.

Timberman got away to a great start, threatening to run the Irish into the floor as they pulled away to a 4-0 lead in the opening 14 minutes. However, the Rocks came back to pull within one goal, at 7-8, in the second period and were going away the rest of the route as the Timbermen ran out of gas and resorted to playing the man instead of the ball.

Gill, Peevée Bradshaw, Jack Northup and Don Sherry each counted two goals for Victoria while Skip McKay, who scored all his goals in the opening period, paced the T-Men with three tallies.

Bradshaw moved within five points of line-mate Jack Blonda in the league scoring race. Blonda, who missed the game after receiving medical treatment on his broken nose, now has 94 points.

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Don Esig III, 18-year-old university student from Indianapolis who can hit some great iron shots and who putted like a demon, won the 32nd National Public Links Golf Championship Saturday by crushing tiny Gene Towry of Dallas, 6 and 5, in a superheated 36-hole final match.

SINGLES TO FINDLAY

New Rulers Crowned In Bowling Tourney

The champions in the 30th annual Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling tournament completed Saturday have a new look—all seven of them.

Officials called the tourney a whopping success as new champions were named in every event.

The first of Victoria's four champions came in the men's singles event where Archie Findlay of Victoria West won the W. J. Cullin Trophy with a 15-9 win over Charles Hastings of Canadian Pacific.

Findlay, who had disposed of former titlists Art Ashford and Bert Hazlett in his march to the crown, won the trophy in a match shortened by rain.

Consolation singles winner was Jim Stokes of Burnside, who posted a 21-18 victory over T. Owen of Beacon Hill.

In the men's rinks competition, the Fort Garry Cup went to the Burnside foursome skipped by Wally Fea, who downed Bob Clarkson's Canadian Pacific rink, 20-15. Members of Fea's winning rink were C. Fea, Dave Donaldson

Sue Brings Title Back to Canada

VANCOUVER (CP) — Susan Butt, a 19-year-old from Victoria, brought the women's western Canada singles tennis trophy back to Canada for the first time in 11 years Sunday, defeating Patty Miller, 16, of Portland.

The scores were 7-5, 5-7, 6-1. The last time a Canadian won the women's singles was in 1946 when Eleanor Young Connolly turned the trick. Miss Butt later teamed with Miss Miller to sweep the ladies' doubles from Bev Danby and Clare Lovett, both of Vancouver, 2-6, 6-1, 6-0. Merwin Miller, 37, of Pasadena, won the men's singles trophy for the third time by outduelling John Swann, 21, of Vancouver in a three-hour and 40 minute battle. The final score was 2-6, 5-7, 7-5, 16-14, 6-2. Miller won previously in 1951 and 1953.

WON ON SERVE
In winning her match, Miss Butt countered the American girl's net game with deep serves and hard returns. She broke Miss Miller's serve twice in the third set and won the match on her serve.

Swann lost despite having match point five times. Miller, who was so exhausted after the match that he couldn't tie his shoelace, said, "I wanted him to win, but I just couldn't give in." In the men's doubles, Miller teamed with Bill Rose of Portland to defeat Ron Schoenberg and Gordon Davis of the University of Southern California 6-3, 6-2, 6-8, 6-4. Mixed doubles were won by Stan Ellis of California and Patty Miller over Jim Macken of Vancouver and Susan Butt 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Senior singles were won by Dr. J. A. Crane of Oakland, over Mel Dranga of Seattle 6-2, 6-3.

PA Games to Chicago

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (CP) — The third Pan American Games, in 1959, have been awarded to Chicago. The Pan American Games Committee cast 13 votes for Chicago and six for Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The games originally were scheduled for Cleveland.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Paulie Armstrong, 121, Los Angeles, outpointed Lauro Saas, 120, Mexico, 2-1.

MUSKOGEE, Mich. — Kenny Lane, 135, Muskegon, outpointed Teddy Reed, 135, Tulsa, 10-7, Hartford, Conn., 10.

F. D. Martin Cup for men's doubles was won by J. Jones of Seattle and D. Cameron of California, who defeated B. Grandin and A. Digney of Burnaby, 21-13.

Mrs. B. Hunter of Vancouver Heights won the ladies' rinks event with a win over Mrs. Sutherland of Dunbar. She received the George Straith Cup.

Mrs. C. C. Donevan and Mrs. G. Payton of Vancouver Terminal received the W. & J. Wilson Cup for doubles, being well in the lead when their match with Mrs. J. Galbraith and Mrs. J. Berry of Hastings was called because of rain.

Mrs. K. C. McConnell had previously won the ladies' singles title and the James McMartin Trophy with a victory over Mrs. Donevan.

A. Turton, Jim Stokes, Mrs. A. Passmore, and Mrs. A. Donald of Burnside won the mixed rinks event with a narrow, 8-6 win over W. J. Green's rink from Victoria West.

Boudreau, whose contract still has another year to go, will be offered a job in the Kansas City front office, according to the source. WE'LL JUST KEEP THAT FRANCHISE, THANK YOU!

Victorians stamped final proof to the claim that they want professional hockey to remain in the city as they boosted the fund drive for a community-owned club to $31,075 before campaign manager Colin Kilburn closed his cash drawer Saturday.

Money collected over the past four weeks makes it possible for Victoria to pick up the franchise returned to the Western Hockey League at the end of last season and start re-building a team.

Campaign directors will meet tonight to draw up plans for incorporating the club and issuing shares to subscribers. A meeting of shareholders will be held in the near future to elect a slate of officers.

Although the drive has passed the minimum amount of $30,000, officials will continue their efforts to raise a total of $50,000 before the 1957-58 season opens.

UBC Four Named To Hall of Fame

Members of the four-oared University of British Columbia crew that won a gold medal at the Olympic Games at Melbourne last November have been named to the passing parade of Canadian athletes who are on the honor roll in the Canadian Sports Hall of Fame at Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition.

World champions and Olympic gold medal winners automatically qualify for entry to the Hall of Fame. So, when the new building is opened at this year's CNE, new additions will include Bob Paul and Barbara Wagner, young Toronto figure skaters, who won the world championship at Colorado Springs last February, Gerry Oullette, the young Windsor sharpshooter who won a gold medal for shooting at the Melbourne Olympics and all four members of the University of British Columbia who won their final in Australia. They are Archie McKinnon, Lorne Loomer, Walter Honndt and Don Arnold.

THRILLING CHAPTER
Each wrote a new thrilling chapter in Canadian sports annals during the past year. At Colorado Springs, the six foot tall Paul and his petite 18-year-old partner culminated a tremendous month of skating by winning the world's championship to add to their victories in the North American and Canadian competitions.

Oullette, a 22-year-old automobile tool designer, was a shocker to a strong Russian contingent at the Olympic Games. Using a rifle borrowed from his Canadian shooting partner Gil Boa, Oullette fired a perfect 600 in the small bore prone position competition, the first perfect score ever recorded in the event.

The UBC four was the Cinderella story of the Olympics. Not originally included in Canada's Olympic plans, they were at Melbourne through the good graces of citizens who raised the money to send them. On the rowing course at Lake Wendouree they achieved their finest hour beating a highly-touted American team from the Detroit Boat Club by ten seconds.

Swim Record Tied
PHILADELPHIA (CP) — Frank McKinney Jr., of Indianapolis, tied the United States record for the 200-metre backstroke Sunday at the AAU swimming and diving competition here.

His time was 2:21.7. Saturday night the same swimmer established a 100-metre backstroke record.

Albion Eleven Conquers Incogs
Albions defeated Incogs by 105 runs in a Victoria and District Cricket Association match played at University School Sunday.

With Bob Mainwaring batting for 60 runs, Albions ran up 168 runs before declaring, then dismissed the Incogs for 63 runs.

D. Hughes scuttled the Incog batting as he took five wickets in three overs while yielding only four runs.

Top batsman for the losing side was Mal Shanks, who stayed in for 23 runs, not out.

Move Indoors Didn't Help

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Playing a Davis Cup match indoors for probably the first time in history, the United States won the two singles matches Sunday to complete a 5-0 sweep of Brazil in the North American zone tennis finals at the Longwood Cricket Club.

Mike Green defeated Jose Aguiar in five sets and Barry MacKay won in straight sets from Carlos Fernandes.

Vic Selix and MacKay Saturday defeated the Brazilian doubles team of Fernandes and Armando Vieira. The scores were 7-5, 9-7, 11-13, 7-5.

The U.S. team will meet the Philippines, eastern zone champion, as the next step toward the final challenge round. The winner goes against either Belgium or Italy for the right to challenge Australia.

Lions, Esks Set Stage For Second Exhibition
VANCOUVER (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos and British Columbia Lions play the second act of their exhibition football roadshow here tonight with a slightly revised cast.

Edmonton's 29-8 decision Friday night at Portland, Ore., in the first of three games between the clubs left players sidelined on both teams.

Besides tonight's game at Empire Stadium here, the two Western Interprovincial Football Union clubs meet next Sunday at San Francisco.

The Eskimos will be without holdover tackle Roger Nelson tonight. He came out of the Portland game, the first professional Canadian football contest in the western United States, with a broken rib.

A new import recruit, 225-pound Duane Underwood from Oklahoma A. and N., is scheduled to replace Nelson.

Still Plenty of Fire In Old Country Boy

Split With Phils Keeps Cardinals Ahead of Braves

By Associated Press

Enos Slaughter, the hustling 41-year-old "country boy" who is the oldest active player in the American League, is showing the younger New York Yankees how the game is played.

Five hits in Sunday's double victory over Cleveland Indians boosted Slaughter's lifetime total to 2,301 in a career dating back to 1938 when he broke into the majors with St. Louis Cardinals.

Slaughter's single tied the score and his three-run homer off rookie Johnny Gray sewed up the 5-2 first game. After Jerry Lumpe's scratch pinch single had tied the score in the ninth inning of the second game, Enos came through with hit No. 2,301, a looping single to centre, that gave the Yanks their eighth straight, 6-5.

TRIBE DROPS

The sweep stretched the Yankee lead to 6½ games over Chicago White Sox who battered Boston pitching for 19 hits and an 11-6 decision in a single game. Cleveland dropped into a fifth-place tie with Baltimore, 19 games off the pace. The Orioles handed Kansas City Athletics their seventh straight defeat 5-0 on Billy Loeb's five-hitter, and Washington Senators thumped Detroit Tigers 8-4 as the two clubs set a Griffith Stadium record with a total of seven home runs.

Although Mickey Mantle had five hits in the New York doubleheader, sending his average to .368, he still was far behind Boston's Ted Williams who moved up to .389 with three singles in four trips against Dick Donovan of Chicago, who went all the way for a fourth straight time to win his 12th. Larry Doby, who connected safely three times for the White Sox, is on a hot streak with 18 hits in his last 40 at bats.

Washington's Roy Sievers failed in his attempt to break the AL record that he tied Saturday by hitting homers in six consecutive games. However, Pete Ramos, Milt Villing, Rocky Bridges and Eddie Yost of the Senators and Bill Tittle, Ray Boone and Al Kalline of the Tigers did hit the ball into the seats. Ramos set a "wrong way" record by giving up his 35th homer but he won his eighth.

In the National, Warren Spahn, ageless Milwaukee Braves' left-hander, made one of his infrequent appearances against Brooklyn Sunday and, brief though it was, it only served to whet his appetite for more.

The 36-year-old pitching ace came in from the bullpen and retired pinchhitter Don Zimmer on a pop foul and Junior Gilliam on strikes with the bases loaded to preserve a 9-7 victory for Bob Buhl.

It was Spahn's first appearance against the Dodgers since June 5, 1956. He hasn't beaten Brooklyn since 1951.

CHASE ST. LOUIS

Victory lifted Braves to within half a game of St. Louis Cardinals, who bowed to the brilliant relief pitching of Philadelphia Phillies' Harvey Hadix in the opener, 5-4, but snatched the second game 4-1 on Lindy McDaniel's steady nine-inning.

Cincinnati Redlegs split a pair with New York Giants, losing the first in 14 innings 7-6, when Willie Mays hit two homers and a triple. Redlegs pulled out the second game 3-2 on a six-hitter by rookie Vicente Amor, recently acquired from Havana of the International League. Chicago climbed out of the cellar by beating Pittsburgh twice, 6-0 behind Moe Drabowsky and 3-2 on Jack Littrell's pinch double in the 11th, spoiling Danny Mortagha's debut as Pirate manager.

Lions, Esks Set Stage For Second Exhibition

For the Lions, the loss was heavier. Out for some time are import tackles Emery Barnes and Phil Wright. Barnes has torn knee ligaments and Wright a torn or displaced cartilage in the same area.

Probably hurt most at Portland was promoter Forbes Crawford, a former U.S. Businessman now living in Vancouver. The crowd of 10,261 was far below expectations and Crawford is reported to have lost about $2,000.

Lions' general manager Herb Capozzi says B.C.'s defeat in Portland "will cost us $10,000" in lowered gate receipts tonight. Advance ticket sales were slow.

MARKET SUMMARIES

New York Featured By Downward Trend

The New York market declined on a broad front today with trading quiet. Key stocks were off fractions to around two points a share.

Aircrafts, rubbers, and oils were the weakest divisions. Most rails, steels, and metals lost ground. Motors were mixed with Chrysler up a fraction. Utilities were narrowly higher. Dome Mines was one of the few Canadian gainers on the exchange with a 1/2 rise. Losers included McIntyre Porcupine, off 1/2. Aluminium-Ltd. 2 1/2. Hudson Bay Mining 1 1/2. Walker-Gooderham 1. Canadian Pacific 1/2, and Distillers-Seagrams 1/2.

On the American exchange Eureka gained 1-16 but other Canadian issues were lower. They included Brazilian Tractor 1/2, Jupiter Oils 1/2, Scurry Rainbow Oil 1/2, and Sapphire Petroleum 1-16.

AT MONTREAL the industrial trend turned irregularly lower in moderate trading today.

Among the base metals, Hudson Bay dropped 2 1/2 to 57 1/2, while Aluminium lost 1 1/2 at 43 and International Nickel was down 1 1/2 at 85 1/2. Steel of Canada was low in its division, dropping a point to 68 1/2, while Atlas at 24 1/2 and Algoma at 34 each slipped 1/2. Papers and constructions were mixed in a 1/2-point range, and in distilleries Walker at 71 1/2 eased a point.

Inter-Provincial Pipe Lines firmed 1/2 at 51 1/2 while Trans-Mountain lost 1 1/2 at 101, and in the refining group Imperial fell 1/2 to 51 as Canadian Oil moved up 1/2 to 36 1/2. Power Corporation was low among utilities, falling a point to 73 while Gaieneau at 29 1/2 and B.C. Power at 48 1/2 each lost 1/2, and Shawinigan was up a like fraction at 87 1/2. Roe marked the only movement among miscellaneous issues, gaining 1/2 at 22 1/2.

Mines and oils were mixed. AT VANCOUVER a dull market saw no change in prices. Vantor moved 2,000 at $23.1. Trojan traded 3,700 at $22, and Sparmac sold 1,000 at 26.

Treasury Official Backs Gold Standard for U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—W. Randolph Burgess, undersecretary of the treasury, said Saturday the United States "ought to be heading toward a gold standard." But he said "we can't do it now with the world so unstable."

Burgess' views on the gold standard question appeared to go somewhat beyond those expressed by former treasury secretary George Humphreys earlier in the Senate finance committee's investigation of the U.S. financial condition.

A country is on the gold standard when its money, including paper bills and silver coins, is redeemable on demand at a fixed weight of fine gold for each monetary unit. The United States has been off the gold standard since the 1933 banking holiday early in the first administration of the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt. Most of the U.S. gold now is in federal government hands.

HELD AS BULLION
At that time the U.S. substituted a managed gold reserve standard by which gold is held as bullion and not coined.

The undersecretary, who soon will leave the treasury for a post at the NATO council, was asked about his views on the gold standard by Sen. George Malone (Rep. Nev.), who had questioned Humphreys along similar lines.

Humphreys and Burgess worked as a team for more than four years, fashioning Eisenhower administration monetary policies. Those policies, especially higher interest rates, have sorts of charges made since 1950.

Police Boss On Carpet

MONTREAL (CP)—Police director J. Albert Langlois has been told that if he doesn't realize his responsibilities to the city executive he will have to "learn the hard way."

The director was on the carpet before Mayor Jean Drapeau and executive chairman Pierre Desmarais because of a speech he made to a service club.

He agreed to the mayor's suggestion to make a public statement clarifying his views about his responsibilities.

Mr. Langlois was called on to explain what he meant by saying the police chief is "undisputed judge" of the manner in which the police force is administered, and to say why he called the Caron vice probe "the greatest hoax in the history of the police department."

Findings of the probe resulted in Langlois' suspension from his job. He was reinstated last March after an appeal court ruled in his favor.

TO CLEAR NAME
Stenographic notes of the interview between Langlois and his bosses were released Friday. They quote Langlois saying he made the controversial speech as a family matter to clear his name of "all

BLACK AND WHITE IN SWIM GREASE

Greased swimmers presented a weird lineup moments before take-off in Jaycee's long-distance swim from Horseshoe Bay Sunday. Some were rubbed only with a light coat of oil, some wore heavy yellow grease, some red, some used axle grease, some Lanolin and at least one used an oil liniment. On some it was too thick to wear comfortably and on Amy Hiland, a late finisher seen at left being prepared by her coach and husband, it was jet black. For Fred Rogers it was the opposite, thus completing the range of contrasts. (Times Photos by Bill Halkett.)

FUNERAL RITES TUESDAY FOR EX-WELFARE CHIEF

Funeral service will be held Tuesday afternoon for Ernest George Snowden, 80, city welfare officer here for 13 years before his retirement in 1946.

Mr. Snowden died last Friday at his home, 1930 Argyle.

Twice a veteran, he served in the Royal Canadian Engineers during the Boer War and the First World War.

Surviving are his widow, Alice, at home; two daughters, Mrs. D. Ramsay, Quesnel, and Mrs. Clarence Adams, Summerland; five grandchildren and one grandchild.

Rev. Richard Muford will officiate at the service in Hayward's Funeral Home Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. Cremation will follow.

Playground Safety Talks Set This Week in Saanich

Saanich firemen will give talks on fire safety at all municipal playgrounds this week.

Several other special events are scheduled for the final two weeks of the supervised playground season.

Pet day will be held at Playfair Park Wednesday with a prize for the best-dressed pet.

TO MUSEUM
Oak Street playground has planned visits to Beacon Hill Park and the Provincial Museum this week, and Reynolds Park youngsters will take a tour of the Kersey food plant Wednesday morning.

Softball game between Reynolds and Majestic parks is slated for Thursday afternoon. At least two closing programs are planned for Thursday, Aug. 15.

Activities at Rosedale Park will include maypole and square dancing, and a display of children's handicrafts.

At Rainbow Park there will be a decorated vehicle contest, bingo, races, and free ice cream for the children.

New Japanese Envoy Sees Bennett Tuesday

Dr. Toru Hagiwara, newly-appointed Japanese ambassador to Canada, will confer with Premier Bennett and members of the B.C. cabinet on Tuesday.

He will also be entertained at a luncheon in the Union Club Tuesday given by Hon. R. W. Mayhew, former Canadian ambassador to Japan.

Interviewed in Vancouver, Dr. Hagiwara said Japan will not build a steel plant in B.C. until it finds out whether the province can back up production with iron ore.

land; is expected to call on Chief Justice Gordon Sloan, administrator in the absence of Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross, during his Victoria visit.

He says Japanese trade with Canada and the United States is improving but "we must try to trade with the Asian countries as well."

The number of unemployed in Victoria for the week ending August 2 showed a drop of about 50 from the previous week, but the total of 1,707 without work is still approximately 500 more than the total for the same time in 1956, the National Employment Service reports.

Number of unemployed women rose from 641 to 666 over the week.

Openings are available for stenographers, experienced waitresses and restaurant cooks, while male service workers continue to be in short supply.

Owner of a $4,000 private plane stolen from Keating air strip Tuesday, Rudy Kwiram, 1032 Oliphant, made an exhaustive check of mainland airports Sunday without success in an effort to find the missing aircraft.

With Victoria businessman Claude Butler he flew to and talked with airport officials at Langley, Chilliwack, Field, Vancouver and also at Nanaimo.

Central Saanich police, in charge of the investigation, said today there was nothing new to report.

Department of Transport headquarters in Vancouver have as yet no reports whatsoever concerning the plane, and discounted earlier reports that an oil slick on the ferry route between Nanaimo and Horseshoe Bay had a bearing on the matter.

"We would hear if there was anything to it," said a D.O.T. official.

Most likely suspect was a hitch-hiker given a lift to the Keating air strip the Sunday before the plane went missing.

This man took cushions from planes to sleep on in the hangar. Mrs. Gladys Egeland, 5420 Hamsterly, reported she picked up the hitch-hiker—a small, dark-complexioned man who needed a haircut—and took him to the air strip. He said he was going to fly a plane to Langley.

The newly-formed Victoria Soaring Club will meet in the Chamber of Commerce boardroom, 816 Wharf Street, tonight at 8 to discuss ways and means of acquiring a glider.

ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES signed up for Jaycee swim marathon in Juan de Fuca Strait Sunday, and here lined up for final instructions before Mayor Percy

Scurrah officially started the race at Horseshoe Bay Sunday noon. After the gun the competitors began stroking for position, at right, but in contrast to the crowd on both sides here, many swimmers would soon feel a loneliness peculiar to distance swimmers plodding through blackness of a long night. About eight were still in the water at nightfall, dropping out of the race one by one as exhaustion overcame them. (Times Photos by Bill Halkett.)

FOR HOLIDAY IN SWEDISH HOMELAND

Myra Swam for Money To Send Parents on Trip

By AB KENT
A holiday trip to Sweden was the driving force which kept 22-year-old California co-ed Myra Thompson stroking grimly toward Port Angeles in Sunday's Jaycee swim marathon.

But the journey wasn't for herself—it was for her mother and father who were home in San Francisco.

She wanted to use the $5,000 prize to send them home to their native Sweden, a cherished dream in the Thompson family.

Myra came amazingly close—a mile and a half from the U.S. shore—to achieving her ambition.

But she won $2,500 for the uncompleted swim and it will go to help pay for her parents' trip to Sweden.

And if there's a bit left over it will go to buying home furnishings.

You see, it was disclosed after the swim Myra and her trainer, Victor Anderson, are engaged.

Asked if she'll come back for another swim, Myra passed to Vic who said:

"She'll probably settle down and start raising a family."

SWIM TEACHER

Myra, who had only one long distance swim to her credit before Sunday, is a 134-pound swimming instructor from San Francisco.

Her one big previous effort was 14 miles of a possible 26½ in the Farallones-San Francisco swim last year. She won that one, too, and no one yet has made the full course.

Myra was unfazed by her competition on Sunday—all-American fellow countrymen, English Channel swimmers from foreign lands and big competitors in the Atlantic City swim.

She outlasted them all.

HER STORY

Myra told about the swim this way:

"I had heard about the swim three weeks ago and got here last Monday. I trained two hours the first day, four hours the next and two hours the next two days in Oak Bay. The temperature was about 57°.

"I was cold (in the Strait), but no colder than I would be any place else exposed that long."

"That's what concerned me most before the swim—not the swimming, but pain from the cold."

"But I didn't think it was too cold."

She lost feeling in her hands very early in the swim, but numbness did not creep.

"I kept looking up to see who was ahead. Ray Taft, my coach-pilot, said don't worry about it; we'll pass them up when they get out of the water. It never failed."

"It's a tough swim, the toughest I've been on, but it's only my second long distance swim."

At swim's end Myra's greatest complaint was sore thigh muscles, and she went to sleep with her hands on them as the Champion headed for its berth.

Myra was aware at all times of what she was doing, how she was swimming and how the rest of the field was making out.

She left the water only after discussing the situation with her trainer, coach, and uncle, Felix Eastmark, of Seattle, who also was in the launch.

GETTING NOWHERE

If they had asked her to keep swimming she would have, but all realized an ebb tide was taking her westward away from Ediz Hook and she was getting nowhere.

Although the effort of swimming more than 16 miles through 50-53-degree salt water prevented her from standing or climbing from her launch to the navigating vessel Island Champion, Myra was in "better shape than some" taken out hours earlier, official physician Dr. J. W. Copeman said.

PEA SOUP

In the tub she began to get drowsy with the sudden relaxing atmosphere. One of her first requests was for Swedish pea soup—a favored dish upon which she insists for training, especially if made by her mother.

"She was going on sheer guts and determination, when taken out," Anderson said. Things would have had to be in her favor (the rest of the way)."

Final meeting of Marigold Park playground committee will be combined with a bingo party at the home of Mrs. G. F. Dyson, 1061 Jasmine, Tuesday, Aug. 13, at 8 p.m.

The Victoria Branch of the British-Israel World Federation will hold an open Bible Study and Discussion meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Newstead Hall.

Joseph Ambrose Jones, 18, and Robert David Charity, 18, Queen's Own Rifles, were remanded by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today to next Monday for sentence after pleading guilty to a charge of theft under $50.

They admitted stealing two hub caps from a car belonging to Lawrence Edward Seeley.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Kiwanis: Empress Hotel, 12 p.m. Henry B. McLean will be guest speaker.

North Kiwanis: Monterey Restaurant, 6:15 p.m. Kiwanis Lieut. Gov. C. C. Annett will report on the recent international convention.

CHANNEL CHAMP TO TRY STRAIT AFTER GETTING USED TO COLD

Jacques Amyot, 32-year-old swimmer from Quebec City who racked up an English Channel victory in 13 hours and two minutes last year, said today he probably will attempt the Strait of Juan de Fuca next Sunday.

"I may try sometime this week, but it probably will be Sunday," he said. "Right now I'm getting used to the water. I'll be going for about two hours today. I didn't think it would be so cold."

Mr. Amyot will make a solo attempt because his application for inclusion in Sunday's mass swim was made too late. He will try to cross the tide-ripped 18.3 miles from Port Angeles to Victoria.

Residents on Heywood, whose property backs onto the new road, complained to city council that 32 trees along the route had been marked for destruction including a stately, old oak believed to be 400 years old, near Rupert.

Following those complaints city parks superintendent W. H. Warren and Gordon Stanford of the city engineer's department, made a quick survey of the new road this morning.

"These complaints are based on a misunderstanding," Mr. Warren said afterwards. "Although it is true that 32 trees have been marked, we have no intention of cutting them all down."

"We shall cut down only 10 young trees which are of no particular value to anyone."

OLD TREE STAYS

"The ancient oak will certainly not come down."

It is expected cutting of the road will be completed in a few weeks and grading will be finished before the end of the year.

"If the weather is favorable, the road may be black-topped before Christmas," a city employee said.

Backing onto the new road between Douglas and Rupert are the Rainbow Apartments, St. Ann's Primary School and the original log cabin school built by the Sisters of St. Ann, the Athlone Apartments and several private houses.

Runaway Horse Rams Into Car

Mishaps Mar Shrine Show; Rider Suffers Concussion

An automobile and a horse collided in downtown Victoria Saturday evening.

The accident climaxed a "bad-luck" day and evening for the annual Shrine horse show at Royal Athletic Park.

Weather conditions cut down attendance, a young rider suffered concussion, and, after the show, a horse injured itself breaking loose from its trailer.

The runaway horse, a mare named Duchess, owned by Bill Grimshaw of Saanichton, fled from the park during one of the final events of the evening show, a saddling race.

SADDLE SLIPPED

Duchess panicked when her saddle slipped under her belly. The west gate of the park had been opened, ready for the spectators to leave, and the mare galloped through.

Ron Trickett, a Victoria, entrant in the show, took after Duchess on his own horse, Sierra Sioux, and pursued the fleeing animal past Central Park.

At Quadra and Hillside, Duchess collided with a car driven by Robert H. Jones, 1249 Judge St. The car was damaged, the horse cut and bruised.

Also in the final event, 14-year-old Barbara Johnson took a bad spill and was rushed to Royal Jubilee Hospital. She suffered concussion and bruises.

BAD SPILL

Following the show, a horse owned by Arthur Vickers broke loose and plunged from a trailer, tearing its abdomen. Veterinarian, Dr. M. L. Olsen, said it was seriously injured but has been "patched" and is recovering.

Highlights of the shows included a fine display of jumping by junior rider Jean Dunbar, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dunbar, 1007 Joan Crescent. A consistent junior winner, Jean carried off top honors in all jumping events, junior and open.

HUMAN JUMP

Freddy Ball, on Gamelin, tensed watchers with a human jump event. The pair cleared a human bar on human posts, then the spread-eagled legs of a man who stood on his head. Grand finale was a spectacular jump through a pyramid of men, members of the Western Horsemen's Club.

Show was opened by Mayor Percy Scurrah who lauded the Shriners for their efforts in raising funds for children's hospitals. In this area much of the club's revenue goes to Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Show judge was veteran horseman Bob Shanks.

Winners of the two-show events follow:

15-Year-Old Charged In Car Death

Fifteen-year-old Barry Jackson, 2604 Roseberry, was arraigned in city police court this morning on a charge arising out of the car-crash death of Gunnar Stebeck, 13, on July 26.

Young Jackson is charged with criminal neglect resulting in the death of another, thereby committing manslaughter.

Preliminary hearing of the case was set for August 14.

The slight, dark-haired boy appeared before Magistrate A. I. Thomas to face the charge, arising when a car stolen by juveniles plunged and crashed over the Dallas Road waterfront.

Police were chasing the car when it rocketed off a 40-foot bank at Cook and Dallas, and plunged to the beach.

Jackson, with two other teenagers, Ray Murdoch and James Lott, was injured in the crash. The fourth, Stebeck, was killed instantly.

Jackson appeared first in juvenile court last week where his case was ordered transferred to police court.

He is represented by lawyer David Sloan.

Hees Admits Patricia Bay 'Cramped'

Transport Minister George Hees, on a familiarization tour of D.C.T. installations, across Canada, held a 30-minute meeting today with Premier Bennett.

Both men said the talk was informal and covered a wide range of topics.

"We just discussed matters of co-operation between the federal and provincial governments," said the premier. "It was on a very friendly basis. There were no decisions."

On his trip Mr. Hees told reporters:

"I'm out here to listen and learn, to get an understanding of the operation."

During the morning he inspected the transport department marine depot on Harbor Road and the weather ship Ronetown berthed at the VMD Bay Street Yard.

On the matter of Patricia Bay Airport, Mr. Hees said "it appears that quarters are a little cramped."

Enlargement of facilities would be given "a lot of consideration," he said.

Mr. Hees, accompanied by his deputy minister John Baldwin, will visit Comox Tuesday en route to Prince Rupert.

First Licence For Brewery In 25 Years

First brewer's licence issued in B.C. in 25 years has been granted by the Liquor Control Board to Caribou Brewing Co. Ltd.

The firm plans to build a $500,000 brewery at Prince George. It will sell its product in the northern interior and in the Okanagan.

Although its licence covers the whole province, the firm is not expected to enter the Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island markets, at least at the present time.

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, AUGUST 5 9

MONTE ROBERTS

There is an excellent feature article in the current issue of Maclean's Magazine, dealing with Main Street in the city of Winnipeg.

I once resided in the city of Winnipeg, so the article set me to thinking of the dear-dead days beyond recall—the dear-dead days of my residence in Winnipeg.

Please note I did not say I once lived in Winnipeg. Residing in Winnipeg, by no stretch of the imagination, can be called living.

Mind you, the climate is not too bad. It is true that residents of Winnipeg are required to own thermometers at least five feet deep.

If a thermometer is any shorter, there is a danger the mercury will drop through the bottom in the winter months.

But this is a minor detail, for the winter isn't very long, using up (in some years) as little as 10 months of the calendar.

And the summer is quite comfortable, if you are able to enjoy living in a cold shower.

Two of the gentlemen I remember best from my sojourn in Winnipeg are Mr. Wes (don't call him Wesley) McCurdy and Mr. Arthur (don't call me Art) Moscarella.

Both these gentlemen (a) were fiercely loyal to, and proud of, Winnipeg, and (b) on the staff of the Winnipeg Tribune they outranked me by a country mile.

Shortly after I arrived in their beloved city, I did a piece for the paper, dealing with my impressions of Winnipeg.

As I remember it, the kindest remark I made was to the effect Winnipeg's chief industry was the export of retired farmers to British Columbia.

This did not contribute greatly to my advancement on the staff of the Winnipeg Tribune.

Another associate on the paper was Mr. Ralph (don't call him Red) Allen. He was exactly like Mr. McCurdy and Mr. Moscarella, except he didn't outrank me.

But Mr. Allen would never give an inch in his loyal support of the city of Winnipeg.

The reason I am mentioning all this is that, when thinking of my period in residence in Winnipeg, it occurred to me that Mr. McCurdy now lives in Victoria, Mr. Moscarella in Vancouver, and Mr. Allen in Toronto.

But please don't misunderstand.

There are many good things about Winnipeg, the main one which comes to mind being its distance from Victoria.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Just One of Many Styles

By PENNY SAVER

I'm sure I've found the store that has the widest selection of earrings in town! I was dazzled by the array of glittering jewels in the showcases, but I blinked a few times and managed to note that there's a large variety of earrings for pierced ears at very reasonable prices.

For instance, there are the popular tiny single-jewel studs with gold posts, of imitation rubies, topazes, amethysts, rhinestones, sapphires, and beryl. These are just $1.95.

I also liked delicate, petit point drops outlined with sparkling jewels, and tiny drops of coral and pearls, both priced at $1. There are so many gold and silver filigree earrings it was impossible to pick out the ones I liked best, but you'll find them at $1.

Imitation jade (non-experts like me certainly couldn't tell it isn't real) is used for drop earrings, also at $1, and matching bracelets of squares of jade set in gold are $2.95 and $3.95.

The same store has a variety of novelty salt and pepper shakers. There's a cute pair of perky china robins for just 50 cents.

PIERCED LOOK

Speaking of earrings, there's a new type for those of you who are squeamish about having your ears pierced. They look on your ear as though they go right through the lobe, but actually they have tiny screws at the back. You can't tell the difference when they're on.

You can choose from pearls, colored stones, and gold or silver drops, all at 59 cents.

Individual molds come four to a package, at 29 cents.

I'll tell you where I did my shopping today if you call me at 2-3131.

"I think you both could use a good, long rest!"

On Etiquette

BRIDE'S PARENTS REFUSE TO ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE: My parents strongly disapprove of my fiancé because of his religion. We have been engaged for almost a year and have decided to be married in spite of the objections. We will have a very quiet wedding, but I don't know how the marriage should be announced since my parents refuse to do it. I think that our friends and relatives on both sides should be informed in some way, and wonder if it would be correct if my fiancé's parents issue the announcements. Will you please give the ruling on this or offer any other suggestion? My fiancé and I are both 26.

Louise Davis

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS: It wouldn't be correct for your fiancé's parents to issue the announcements. You are both of age, so you can do it yourselves. There is one unhappy aspect about it though. You would be making it apparent that your parents disapprove. But on the other hand, you can't be secretive about it, so you might as well take matters in your own hands. I suggest that you hold off as long as you can, just in case your parents' relent at least enough to agree to issue the announcements themselves. The phrasing of the engraving should be similar to any conventional marriage announcement. Example: (first line) Miss Elizabeth Marie Graham (second line) and (third line) Mr. Joseph William Perry (fourth line) have the honour of announcing (fifth line) their marriage (sixth line) Saturday, the fourteenth of September

FLORENCE, Italy (Reuters)—More than 2,000 models and more than 1,000 hats were presented during a week of showings by Italian high fashion designers in Florence.

When fall and winter come, you will know which well-dressed woman is following the Italian line.

If you meet her in the street she will be wearing a big tweed or wool topcoat in brown or green, such as the one Fouriet who was till recently with Balenciaga in Paris has designed. The shoulders slope down into the new nine-tenths sleeves which meet the long gloves just above the wrist bone.

Her hat will be cloche, worn towards the back of her head and pulled down over her right ear. Any decoration—a bow or a jewel—will be worn over the right ear.

"WIDE-AWAKE" LOOK

The toque with an inverted "V" front, also worn far back and giving the new "wide-awake" look to the face, is the other hat shape she may be wearing.

The wool or tweed dress underneath will have a full or slightly bell-shaped skirt and a plain bodice with rounded neck and three-quarters or nine-tenths sleeves.

The natural waistline will be moulded by an eight-inch corset—either inset into the dress as in a lovely grey flannel by Gregoriana which was faintly bloused and as neatly buttoned as a pageboy, or worn outside like a Victorian corset, as Capucci used on a brown wool alpaca dress with a brown petersham corselet.

An attractive way to serve creamed fish is on a bed of green and white parsley rice. To prepare parsley rice, lightly combine fluffy cooked rice and finely chopped parsley in the proportion ¼ cup of chopped parsley to 2 cups of hot rice.

Golden-Toned Flowers, Frocks For Lovely Afternoon Wedding

Yellow, gold and bronze flowers decorated St. Alban's Church for the marriage Saturday afternoon of Stella Elizabeth Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Harper and Robert Gordon Steven Thurston, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Thurston of Victoria. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Greenhaigh. Walter Hamilton played organ music.

The lovely bride, wearing an all-white cocktail-length gown of lace over taffeta, walked up the aisle on the arm of her father. Her dress was fashioned on princess lines, with a full skirt and sweetheart neckline, and her chapel veil, misting to shoulder-length, was fastened to her headband by orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and marguerite daisies.

Miss Vivien Harper, Vancouver, niece of the bride, chose a dress of warm, yellow cotton brocade styled on princess lines with a matching ruffled headpiece. She carried a bouquet of yellow, bronze and white daisy mums.

Mrs. Thurston, mother of the groom, wore a soft beige lace dress with small bolero, with matching shoes, gloves and hat. A brown, orange and yellow orchid completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Harper, mother of the bride, selected a cornflower blue crepe gown with gored skirt, blue-shoes, white gloves and pressed lace hat. She wore a white gardenia corsage.

N. R. Murphy, cousin of the groom, was best man, and K. D. Murphy, another cousin of the groom, and J. L. Harper, brother of the bride, ushered.

A reception was held at Old England Inn, where the newlywed couple cut a three-tier white cake decorated with tiny white rosebuds. A toast to the bride was proposed by R. Bell.

The couple will motor into the interior of B.C. on their honeymoon. For traveling the bride chose a dark red tweed fitted suit flecked with grey and black. Her suit featured raglan push-up sleeves and an all-round pleated skirt, and she wore white and grey accessories with a red straw hat and white gardenia corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Thurston will make their home at 4024 West 15th, Vancouver, on their return.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST Attends Graduation

Mrs. M. Menkes has returned to her home on Heron Street, after a two-month visit in Los Angeles, Calif., where she and her daughter, Shirley, attended the graduation of her eldest son, Edwin. Edwin has received his doctor's degree in optometry at the Los Angeles School of Optometry, and plans to practice in British Columbia. Shirley is still in California attending a Councillors-in-Training camp in Santa Susana, and will return home at the end of August.

In London, England

Many Vancouver Island visitors in London have recently signed the register at British Columbia House. From Victoria are Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Harrison, Mr. Frank Swannell, Mr. Fred M. Carr, Mrs. J. Wells, Mr. J. David N. Edgar, Miss A. M. Gaudin, Miss Elizabeth G. Cuthbertson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wood, Dr. Frank M. Bryant, Mr. Graham Steed and 2nd Lieut. B. R. D. Smith, Mr. Jim Ord of Esquimalt; Miss Sue March; Honey-moon Bay; Miss Helen Ashwell, Ladysmith; Mr. David Field, Ganges; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stone with Julie, Brenda, Mark, James and Allan, of Masachie Lake.

Balmain Drops Skirt Line By Inches

PARIS (UP)—Dapper and elegant Pierre Balmain revolted last week against the current trend to raise the hemline. Instead of raising skirts he dropped them to 15 inches from the ground, the lowest yet this season.

It opened a new battle of the hemline.

Balmain's salon on the Rue Francois Premier looked like Shangri-La, complete with brocade and fur trimming.

In his new "Dalai Lama" line, Balmain evokes the cloaks of Tibetan monks.

A new cut has been invented for sleeves that enfold the shoulder in a broad sweep, and roomy "Mati Hari" sleeves are cut together with the back, all in one piece, to give a stole effect.

Luxurious furs are treated like fabric. Coats for day wear are lined with red fox, or white lynx. A trench coat of black broadtail is casually worn over a straight broadtail skirt.

For evening Balmain introduces a full white ermine skirt tied at the waist with a softly-knotted black satin belt and topped with a black velvet long-sleeved blouse.

Visits Grandfather

Mrs. Edward Abraham and her daughter Kathryn were in Victoria for a brief visit with Mrs. Abraham's grandfather, Mr. J. W. Stalker, 1219 Pandora Avenue. They are traveling by plane from their home in San Francisco to Winnipeg for a holiday.

Quiet Wedding

On Saturday evening at 8 p.m., Joan Velma Drummond, exchanged marriage vows with Frederick V. C. Ramsdale. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Drummond, 3651 Kathleen Street, and her husband the son of Mrs. E. Ramsdale, 2535 Wark Street, and Mr. V. G. Ramsdale, 1008 Collinson Street, Victoria. Rev. E. Stone, Church-by-the-Lake at Elk Lake, officiated.

Arthur Godfrey's Talent Show Live From Seattle at 7.30

SHOW STOPPERS—There was plenty to rap in

CBC's Vancouver production of Show Stoppers, Friday night. But the over-all charm of the musical fling moved the criticisms into a minor margin headed "Things to Correct Before Next Show." Altogether, it was an enchanting half-hour.

Choosing numbers from two smash Broadway and motion picture hits, "Oklahoma" and "Annie Get Your Gun," singers Wendy Martin and Bob Goulet were pleasant to watch and to listen to, even though they would be urged next time not to act but their duties with such obvious care.

The same applies to members of the chorus who,

when they were given their all in the rousing

"Oklahoma!" number, spoiled the gay abandon of the piece by gesturing in unison in the grand elocution tradition.

Sets were gay and effective and the music under

Harry Pryce was smooth and one of the main contributions to the success of the whole. However, we thought Bill Buckingham spoke too much. This may have accounted for the artificial quality of his humor.

AT THE RISK of being charged with bias we thought the three Victoria dancers, Pat Olson, Rae

Burns and Walter Burgess, performing to choreography by this city's Wynne Shaw, were a solid hit, adding much to the professional character of "Show Stoppers." Next time, however, it is hoped that the dancers and the cameramen will have a more reliable liaison so that the dancers don't entirely disappear from camera range as they did on the odd occasion during the

Watching it all, however, one couldn't help but think how wonderful television is. Without it, possibly not one of the performers on "Show Stoppers" would have been seen in anything more than a local production.

Now, however, they can be seen by thousands for the mere price of flicking a dial. And what is more, the new medium now offers a goal for every young artist in big city or hamlet, to work for without it being impossible.

In summary, "Show Stoppers" may well emerge as the best half-hour musical show the CBC has ever

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER — Passengers on Pacific Great Eastern Railway trains were brought here by bus from Clinton, 250 miles north of Vancouver, after a freight train derailment blocked the track Sunday.

Twelve cars of the freight went off the track seven miles south of Alta Lake. No one was injured.

The derailment occurred at about Mile 70 on the PGE track between North Vancouver and Prince George, but Clinton is the nearest point to Vancouver where a road meets the railway line. Passengers were taken north and south by train from there.

Line was cleared during the night and traffic returned to normal today.

HIGH-SPEED CHASE

VANCOUVER — Three youths were arrested here Sunday night after five police cars chased their vehicle at high speed through city streets.

The chase started on the west end of Burrard Bridge and finished up more than a mile away on arterial Main Street.

Pedestrians scattered at many downtown intersections as the chase progressed.

BOTTLE THROWER FINED

CLOVERDALE — A youth who admitted throwing a bottle which injured a girl was fined $250 and costs in RCMP court here.

Michael Ondick, on the beach at White Rock June 23 with a group of Whalley youths, threw the bottle at a group from Haney, just leaving to go home. It struck Helen Demmon, 19, on the head, causing injuries to her nose and face. She was treated in hospital and later released.

CRITICALLY INJURED

PRINCE GEORGE — One man remained in critical condition in hospital here Sunday night and two others were slightly injured after their car careened off the Cariboo Highway 35 miles south of here.

Louis Van Buskirk remained in hospital while Victor Odeon and Alvin Olson were released after treatment. The car went down a 20-foot embankment. The men are believed from Strathnaver and Hixon, small communities near here.

CROSBY AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER — Crooner Bing Crosby passed through a wet Vancouver Saturday on his way to the Queen Charlotte Islands for a fishing trip.

Crosby, 32, met with fishing buddy handleader Phil Harris on a yacht during the afternoon.

Crosby has become a regular fisherman in the deep pools of Vancouver Island and up and down British Columbia's 1,000-mile coast.

HERD BRINGS $136,210

VANCOUVER — Buyers from South America, Canada and the United States paid a total of $136,210 for 293 animals from the famed Grauer Holstein cattle herd from adjacent Sea Island Friday and Saturday.

Although the figure was more than $100,000 less than expected, the average $30 price per lot was the highest of any holstein auction in Canada this year. The sale itself was considered one of the biggest in this country's history.

MP ACTS TO END STRIKE

KITIMAT — Frank Howard, CCF member of parliament for Skeena, has intervened in a carpenters' dispute here and at Kamloops which had idled nearly 3,000 construction workers since Thursday.

Mr. Howard approached Local 1081 of the Carpenters' Union Sunday and offered to act as intermediary to bring the two sides together.

"Our immediate reaction was to give him the go-ahead," said business agent Ernie Rodda.

Reaction of the Kitimat Builders' Exchange was not immediately known.

Nearly 500 carpenters have struck to back up their demand for full implementation of a conciliation board wage award of $2.55 an hour. The exchange has offered $2.44.

LARGE MEMORIAL

The Taj Mahal in Agra, India, was built by Shah Jehan about 1629-30 as a tomb for his favorite wife, Mumtaz Mahal.

HER 57TH BIRTHDAY was observed quietly by the Queen Mother Sunday on the family estate at Sandringham. She walked to church services accompanied by Princess Margaret. Flags were flown in London and army and navy guns fired salutes.

Disunity Among Churches Helps Truth Says Prelate

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. Geoffrey F. Fisher, told churchmen of 165 different denominations Sunday not to be discouraged by their "disunities and disagreements."

"Our disunities still have a creative value," Archbishop Fisher told the member churches, representing some 170,000,000 persons. "History records the disunities and disagreement of the churches. It is only through them that growth into truth has remained possible and kept still within our reach."

Speaking before members of the World Council of Churches, the Archbishop declared: "The church is a living society always needing a renewal in the spirit of its mind and always torn between inevitable conformities to this world and the transformations needed of it by the Holy Spirit."

"All instrument weapons of the church," he added, "are under diversity of interpretation and subject to dispute. They are all vulnerable and we must always remember that every separate church fails in some degree in its understanding of these great corporate gifts."

The 70-year-old Archbishop spoke in historic Center Church.

THEY BEHAVE BETTER WHEN REGISTERED

A new system of registering and photographing students who attend Saturday night rock 'n' roll dances at Memorial Arena has paid off in improved behavior.

Manager Joseph Dukowski says 1,850 identity cards have been issued. Only card holders are admitted to the dances. The cards are taken away in event of misbehavior.

Starting Aug. 16, card-holders will be able to attend free square dance lessons. Three provincial recreation summer school teachers will assist with instruction. Number of classes will depend on interest shown by the youngsters.

on-the-Green. His appearance attracted more than 1,000 persons.

Robed in a purple cassock, the Archbishop was assisted in the service by leading clergymen from the U.S. and abroad.

Included were Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America and chairman of the World Council's central committee; the Very Rev. Andrew Thakur Das of the United Church of North India and Pakistan; the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.; and the Most Rev. Enrique C. Sobrepenna, presiding Bishop of the United Church of Christ in the Philippines.

Unknown Wins Swim Marathon

Change in Tide Spoils Chances $2,500 Extra

HOW THEY FINISHED

Here are the money winners in the Jaycees Strait swim marathon, with elapsed times and distances:

1. Myra Thompson, San Francisco; 16 hrs., 31 mins.; 16.8 miles; $2,500.
2. Amy Hiland, Long Beach; 12 hrs., 36 mins.; 10.5 miles; $1,250.
3. Billie Benedict, Victoria; 12 hrs., 21 mins.; 10 miles; $750.
4. Gene Perle, Long Beach; 10 hrs., 21 mins.; 7 1/2 miles; $500.

Other Pictures, Stories, Pages 8 and 9.

A 22-year-old California swimming instructress, making the second start in her life as a marathon swimmer, captured the second annual Victoria-Port Angeles Strait swim in the early hours of this morning.

Myra Thompson won $2,500 first prize for a swim that confounded the experts, and only an adverse tide which pushed her back from within a mile of Ediz Hook prevented her from capturing the full $5,000 prize for the swim.

But she established at least one new record for the now famous Strait by staying in the water 16 hours, 31 minutes, which was nearly four hours longer than ever before.

She was 15 miles from the Washington shore when taken out at 4.35 a.m. today. She could have gone on longer, but the tide was taking her out again and her coach decided to call it quits.

All others of the 17 who started the swim had quit four hours previously but Myra staged a dramatic middle-of-the-night effort to cover the full 18.3 miles to Ediz Hook.

The swim started at 12.04 noon, Sunday, from Horseshoe Bay where a crowd estimated at 7,000 gathered.

Second and third places, also won by women, went to Amy Hiland, 36, Long Beach, Calif., $1,250, and Victoria swimmer Billie Benedict, 27, whose total training came to about two hours. She won $750.

Fourth prize, $500, went to Gene Perle, 30, Long Beach lifeguard.

AND SO, 16 HOURS AND 31 MINUTES LATER---$2,500

Hot bath, hot drink were first rewards of 22-year-old Myra Thompson, official winner of annual Juan de Fuca Strait mass swim sponsored by Junior Chamber of Commerce. Final reward—$2,500—will come later. Win was Myra's first major marathon effort. (Times Photos by Irving Strickland.)

Part of a crowd estimated at 7,000 who saw 17 marathon swimmers take off from Horseshoe Bay Sunday noon in a try at $5,000 first prize for reaching Port Angeles. People dotted cliffs and points until flotilla was beyond shouting distance. There were about 50 boats of all kinds in the fleet, which included an BCN diving tender for scout ship and emergency vessel. (Times Photo.)

SWIM SIDEBARS

The really big story of the Jaycee swim this year was the victory of the fair sex.

Six of the 11 contestants were women, but three of them took the first three spots.

Juan de Fuca kept its title as "the Mount Everest of swims" which Florence Chadwick tied to it in 1954. The collection of swimming talent in the race was considerable and the fact no one got across even though the weather was good demonstrated the toughness of the crossing.

It was rather interesting that in swim weekend, Cliff Lumsdon, the record holder, was picking up a $5,000 check for winning the Owen Sound swim in Ontario, while Flo Chadwick, who started it all in the Strait, was setting up a new record for the Bristol Channel in England.

After 12 hours, 21 minutes in the Strait, Billie Benedict was still able to step smartly from her companion boat to the Island Champion. The bronzed swimmer was offered a "rubdown" to smooth swimming kinks. Billie refused. "The great Benedict does not need a rubdown," she said.

A school of porpoises sported about the guide boats of swimmers Ben Laughren and Billie Benedict as dusk began to settle over the mass swim. At one time they passed immediately in front of Miss Benedict, but she plugged doggedly on, never breaking her swim stride.

Charles Grover, ex-swim team captain at Harvard, gave a no-holds-barred explanation of his defeat by the Strait of Juan de Fuca at 6.55 p.m. "I just didn't have the guts to stay in there," he said aboard the navigation boat Island Champion.

Several spectators whiled away the long hours of the swim by dropping fishing lines over the sides of their boats. But the biggest catch, a coho weighing about 10 pounds, was made by Dave McMillan, who rowed for big Ben Laughren.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

We crave forgiveness, O God, for the ease with which we take for granted the bounties of nature, the heritage of our fathers, the friendship of our neighbors, and the privileges of life in this fair land. Grant that our felt gratitude may find expression in the impacts we make upon our fellows; in Christ's name. Amen.

Ben Laughren Out of the Money

Last year winner Ben Laughren, 35, Victoria, finished just out of the money in fifth place. He had set the former record time of 12 hours, 25 minutes, also for an incomplete swim.

If she had completed her swim—thwarted in the pre-dawn half-light a short distance off Ediz Hook—Myra Thompson would have been the first woman to swim the strait north to south.

Stroking a consistent 54 per minute, Miss Thompson steadily worked her way from fourth position early in the race, taking the lead gradually as three men ahead of her dropped out one by one.

There were six women and 11 men in the marathon.

Minutes before Myra's team decided she should come out (green flare from her attending vessel was fired at 4.35 a.m.) Jaycees aboard the pilot tug

Island Champion hastily considered paying $5,000 full first prize money if Myra was able to land anywhere on the Washington coast.

Rules state a landing must be within five miles either side of the tip of Ediz Hook, at Port Angeles.

However, with Myra the sole swimmer remaining and an ebb tide carrying her steadily to the westward and likely beyond the five-mile limit, it was discussed that full money might be paid if she was able to make shore.

An executive member later said a full meeting of the Junior Chamber would have been required to authorize such a change.

Total prize money of $10,000 would have been split between first four swimmers if first place had completed the full distance.

However, with an incomplete first, total money was halved.

'Toughest Swim I've Ever Been On'

"It's a tough swim, the toughest I've ever been on," the San Francisco girl said later.

One of the early withdrawals, Paul Herron, 36, Sacramento, described the swim as "about the greatest swim in the world." Despite almost perfect weather conditions throughout the marathon, except for slight windy periods, swimmers fell victims to the cold and lazy tides.

Course, laid out by Capt. Ellice Cavin of Island Tug and Barge Ltd.'s Island Champion, the navigation vessel, was designed to attempt a straight-across attack by all swimmers who chose to follow.

Flotilla started on a flood less than a foot in rise, rode an ebb of about the same fall for about six hours and then tried to make headway southward on the new flood into Ediz Hook.

The expected boat failed to materialize, water remained glassy smooth and swimmers remaining at about midnight were progressing strictly through their own efforts.

The next ebb began setting boats and swimmers on the course westward toward the mouth of the Strait.

First casualty was Allan Small, 33, Victoria, who left the marathon at 1.55 p.m. Sunday with a leg cramp and severe headache. He covered about 1.75 miles and was in the water 1 hour, 51 minutes.

Between 3.50 p.m. and 5.40 p.m. five more left the swim, one of them Anita Long, 18, Victoria, who went straight back to Fishermen's wharf instead of checking out through the Champion.

It was estimated she covered two miles in her two hours, 58 minutes in the Strait. This was about average speed for most competitors.

Paul Herron, 36, Sacramento, went up to take first from Charles Grover, 32, Roxbury, Mass., who led almost from the start, then Gene Perle, 30, Long Beach, overtook both of them.

He held first place from about 3 p.m. to 10.25 p.m. when he was forced out by delirium.

He said later his mistake was in overtaking his friend Herron and Grover.

"I sure wanted to win. Everybody does," said Perle. "I know where I made my mistake. I should have laid back behind Grover and Herron. I couldn't stand to see them in front of me."

"They were battling it out and I just poured it on. I should have held to 49 strokes. I was doing 56.58. . . I was stupid. I should have swum my own race."

Fred Rogers, 31, South San Francisco, said when he came out at 3.09 p.m. "I could feel the cold going right through me. My arms were just getting heavier and heavier. . . . So I figured since I'm here for the money and I was so far behind I might as well quit." He was about four miles off Beacon Hill.

He wants to try again.

Myra and Amy Hiland, who stroked at about 58 per minute, stayed in for second for a while, with Ben Laughren and Billie Benedict in fourth and fifth for a good part of the afternoon.

Ann Burian, 44, Vancouver, and Janice White, 20, Detroit, brought up the rear.

Police Grab 31 in Crackdown; Check of Saanich Parks Urged

Wild-driving youths aren't laughing at police any longer.

Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock reported today the force's general crackdown on traffic Saturday night netted 31 violators. Three cars were impounded.

The offences ran all the way from failure to signal turns to one of impaired driving. Although quiet until about 11 p.m., Saturday's crackdown produced a heavier run than usual.

Complaints that "wild ones"—irresponsible youths with cars—were laughing at police, brought the remark from Chief Blackstock:

"They don't have anything to laugh about once they're caught. They have to suffer for it then."

He said Saturday night's offences were committed by both youths and adults but declined to disclose the ratio. Most were picked up in the Yates, View, Fort, Blanshard and Douglas areas but the crackdown was city-wide.

By-Elections For Sept. 9

Chief Blackstock said the force would keep the pressure on traffic violators but no more warnings of crackdowns would be issued. He was satisfied that Saturday's all-out effort had produced the results desired.

He added that no action could be taken to place the wreck of a July 26 death car on the roundabout as an example until the case is completed. A 13-year-old boy was killed when the stolen car plunged off a Dallas cliff after a wild chase.

In Saanich, however, officials were worried about a growing juvenile problem with sharp increases expected in drinking, morals and traffic cases.

Up to a 300 per cent increase in juvenile cases appears in the offing this year compared with 1955.

Two avenues of attack have been suggested: night curfews

By-Elections For Sept. 9

Voters in three British Columbia ridings will go to the polls Monday, Sept. 9, in a "little provincial election."

An order-in-council and proclamation fixing the polling date in Burnaby, Delta and Cariboo was signed this morning.

Nomination day will be Thursday, Aug. 29.

A four-way fight in each of the ridings is expected.

The Burnaby seat was made vacant by the death last January of veteran CCF member Ernest Winch.

Cariboo riding became vacant in April with the death of Agriculture Minister Ralph Chetwynd.

Delta has been represented since 1952 by Speaker of the House Thomas Irwin, who resigned this spring to enter federal politics. (He won in Burnaby-Richmond).

Present standing in the legislature is Social Credit 37, CCF 9, Liberal 2, Labor 1, and the three vacant seats, making a total of 52.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE DENIES VISIT SET

LONDON (AP)—A Buckingham Palace spokesman says there is no visit to Canada on Princess Margaret's agenda.

The News of the World reported Sunday that the princess would pay her first visit to Canada next year to attend centennial ceremonies for the Province of British Columbia.

The palace spokesman said: "No plans are at present being made for Princess Margaret to visit Canada."

Earlier a spokesman at Government House here and L. J. Wallace, chairman of B.C. Centennial Committee, issued denials that B.C. had received an affirmative reply to its invitation to Princess Margaret to visit B.C. during the centennial year. (The story originated from an Ottawa correspondent of Toronto, London and other newspapers.)

Tito Spearhead Of Red's Drive

Yugoslav Chief to Forge Links With Western Socialist Groups

BELGRADE (AP)—President Tito was pictured here today as the spearhead of a new Soviet drive to forge closer links with the non-Communist socialist parties of the West.

Experts on Yugoslav relations indicated this is a major result of Tito's surprise meeting in Romania last week with Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev.

Moscow Radio described the meeting as the firming up of an agreement on "concrete forms of co-operation" between the Communist parties of Russia and Yugoslavia.

Experts here believe Khrushchev went further and agreed to a "new relationship" among socialist parties of the world—non-Communist as well as Communist.

BONDS LOOSENED

They said Khrushchev showed willingness to permit "a greater degree of freedom" for some East European countries and stressed his recognition of the Yugoslav Communist party's full independence from Moscow dictation.

The Tito-Khrushchev meeting was their first since the Soviet boss won his struggle with Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and other Soviet leaders. One of the counts against the Malenkov-Molotov group was that they opposed the reconciliation with Tito.

Observers here saw the new Khrushchev-Tito accord as a move by the Soviet party chief to allay suspicions held by foreign socialist parties of the Kremlin.

They suggested Tito would occupy a "very important place" in the new set-up on grounds that only he could bring the socialists into the Soviet camp.

BACKFIRED ONCE

Khrushchev made overtures for friendship with the western Socialist parties in the spring of 1956, but his attempt backfired.

Socialist leaders of 14 western countries joined in rejecting any form of political co-operation with the Kremlin and invited the Reds to offer "adequate proof of a genuine change in the principles and policies of Communist dictatorship."

Western diplomats have suggested the latest Tito-Khrushchev meeting could herald the most significant Soviet-Yugoslav accord since Tito broke with Stalin in 1948.

They believe it would go beyond the accord worked out two years ago, when Khrushchev journeyed to Belgrade to apologize for the 1948 rift. Last year's rebellions in Poland and Hungary—and Tito's criticism of the Soviet action—imposed a severe strain on that accord.

... CRACKDOWN

Saanich Reeve Arthur Ash said establishing a 10 or 10.30 curfew in three sludged parks should be considered by the Victoria-Saanich parks and beaches committee.

He singled out Beaver-Elk Lake, Mount Tolmie and Mount Douglas parks as hive-beds of delinquency among juveniles where police are hampered in controlling the situation by dense woods.

Moral offences by juveniles are reported on the upswing in these parks.

"A curfew wouldn't be necessary in the other parks because they are relatively free of that sort of trouble," he added.

Mr. Ash, chairman of the Saanich police commission, said acquisition of a police "ghost" car would be up to the commission. The car could be used to cut down the highway speeding problem in the municipality.

INCREASE OF 8

Saanich Police Chief W. A. Pearson reported juvenile cases of all types in 1955 totalled 55. Last year there were 63 cases. This incidence jumped to 82 during the first seven months of the current year including 48 traffic cases involving juveniles, 10 more than recorded in all of 1956.

Chief Pearson advocated greater use of the paddle in punishing juveniles sentenced by courts for offences.

One official said some juveniles have been in the Branan Lake detention home seven or eight times.

"For many of them, they are treated better there than they are at home," the official said. "If they faced the paddle each time they wouldn't be too anxious to return."

Chief Blackstock reported the incidence of juvenile offences in Victoria's parks was relatively small and would not merit curfew restrictions.

Jordan, Syria Patch Quarrel

AMMAN, Jordan (Reuters)—A government spokesman today announced "settlement" of Jordan-Syrian friction over a reported anti-Jordan press campaign in Syria. Ahmed Rahabi, Syrian charge d'affaires, returned here from Damascus today and met with Jordanian Foreign Minister Samir Rifal.

The government spokesman said: "This friendly meeting has resulted in a settlement of the question and opened a new page in the brotherly relations between both sister states for the benefit of the Arabs."

He will make it final at the end of this week if other cabinet members have not by then found 50,000,000 francs ($140,000,000) needed to make up the total cuts of 600,000,000 francs ($1,680,000,000) for which he has called.

Prospects the cabinet will toe Gaillard's line were regarded here as reasonably good.

War of Nerves By Cuba Rebels

HAVANA (AP)—Partisans of rebel leader Fidel Castro launched a war of nerves today against the government of President Batista.

They broke into hundreds of private telephone conversations in Havana shouting, "We have taken the presidential palace," "long live Fidel Castro."

The interruptions started a flood of rumors that Batista's government had collapsed.

Simultaneously, rebels distributed thousands of leaflets in Havana and nearby towns and cities calling upon Cubans to stay away from work today.

Early reports indicated, however, most workers were flocking back to their jobs through-out Cuba. They faced loss of their jobs if they didn't.

TAKE OVER TV STATION

Artists and technicians at one of Havana's privately owned television stations went on strike and police took over the establishments. These stations and all newspapers have been strongly censored since Batista suspended constitutional guarantees for 45 days.

Batista said: "There won't be any general strike. If it is tried it will be quickly smashed."

He claimed to have defeated rebel plans for a general strike Sunday and decreed that workers would lose their jobs permanently if they failed to report to work by today.

Castro's rebel radio continued broadcasts urging Cubans to strike and gave them instructions on how to make Molotov cocktail bombs to continue widespread sabotage and night bombings.

EXPLOSION KILLS THREE

Army headquarters announced that two persons were killed and three were injured when a bomb explosion destroyed a house in Quantanamo. Headquarters said a quantity of arms was seized.

Batista ordered a crackdown on strike agitators and saboteurs as army and police searched the capital for nine men charged with masterminding the strike move.

A man being flown to Vancouver from Terrace for treatment of a broken neck died on the plane 40 minutes before it landed Saturday night.

He was identified as Albert Daoust, a native Indian of Hazelton who was injured late in July when his wagon overturned near his home. His wife Helen was killed in the accident.

Khrushchev Pledges Security for Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A pro-Socialist newspaper says in a dispatch from Moscow that Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev has guaranteed Syrian security.

The dispatch to the Daily Al-Ain quoted Khrushchev as telling a Syrian government delegation "You can be sure Syria's security is guaranteed. The Soviet Union will not allow or tolerate any aggression against Syria."

The Russian leader made the statement when the delegation headed by acting Syrian Defence Minister Khaled El Azm "referred to Israel and colonialist anti-Syrian aggressive intentions," assistant chief editor Jubran Korya wrote.

Korya said Soviet Premier Bulganin and Defence Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov were present when Khrushchev gave the assurance at a recent Kremlin meeting.

Communist nations are being supplying military equipment and advisers to Syria since shortly after Egypt closed an arms deal with Russia in 1955.

Canadian Records Fall; Jenkins Wins Twice

VANCOUVER (CP)—Despite heavy rain and a soggy track, two Canadian track and field records fell Saturday at the 71st annual Caledonian Games in Brockton oval here.

Sixteen-year-old Garry Meacham from Snohomish, Wash., established a new Canadian mark in the juvenile men's eight-pound shot put event, Garry put the shot 64 feet five inches, breaking the record of 61 feet 11 inches set by Fred Roush of Hamilton in 1951.

The other record fell to Vancouver's Freyda Berman. She ran the midjet girls' 100-yard dash in 11.4 seconds, 4/10ths of a second faster than the record established by Vancouver's Carol Griffiths in 1953.

MONTREAL (CP)—Marlene Stewart Streif, whose appearance on the starting tee has become tantamount to another victory in the Canadian Ladies' Close golf tournament, starts out today to defend her Open title against all comers.

The trim little champion from Fonthill, Ont., ran away from the field Saturday in winning her seventh straight Close title with a 54-hole total of 226.

At that figure she was five strokes under par, four of them were short off in her final 18-hole round, in which she never missed par and thoroughly squelched all opposition.

Marlene has won the Open amateur title four times in the last six years. A qualifying round for the Open will be played today.

The entry list of 116 includes 10 American girls. The 32 low scorers will go into the championship flight at match play played Tuesday.

Rae Milligan, second in the Close, shooting a shaky 79 in her last round for a 234 total, became the runner-up for the third straight year.

The dreams of a couple of 19-year-old juniors vanished swiftly. Blonde Judy Darling of Montreal fired a 79 in her final bid and pulled into third place with 236. Mary Ellen Driscoll of Saint John, N.B., a husky youngster, took 83—her worst round of the tournament but salvaged fourth place.

Betty Stanhope of Edmonton was fifteenth with 244.

Miss Driscoll also lost the junior Canadian championship when she met Judy in a sudden-death playoff. Judy won at the second extra hole with a par.

Marlene's subpar score sent the defending Ontario team coasting into the interprovincial championship over Quebec. The teams finished in a tie Friday, and Saturday's deciding round gave Ontario the title by 19 strokes.

Marlene's steady play through the first two rounds and then her withering 73 Saturday proved the undoing of her challengers. Her rounds for the 54 holes were 77-76-73.

Rae put together 77-78 for 155 and after 36 holes was only two strokes away from the championship.

Royals Outclass North Shore, 7-2

VANCOUVER (CP)—New Westminster Royals made North Shore look like a junior team in defeating them 7-2 in a Pacific Coast League soccer game at Callister Park Saturday.

North Shore chalked up the first goal, when Bob Donaldson scored at 20 minutes, but from then on the Royals, with Jack Hobbs scoring three goals, took charge.

Poor weather held attendance down to 813.

WEXFORD KEEPS TITLE

Sam Threatens Roberto's Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Roberto De Vicenzo, 34, of Mexico City, refused to wilt under a hot 66 tossed at him Sunday by veteran Sammy Snead and fired a 70 to hold the 54-hole lead by four strokes in the $25,000 All-American pro golf tournament.

De Vicenzo teed off in the last threesome of the All-American's third round, delayed a day by rain, and he was on the 14th hole when the revived Snead came charging home with his six-under-par effort for a three-quarter total of 207.

De Vicenzo, however, knocked one off par on his remaining four holes and his 70 gave him a 54-hole total of 203, 13 under Tam O'Shanter's par for the distance.

Third at 208 was Paul Harney, who fired a third-round 72, while three were tied at 210—Dow Finsterwald, Bill Casper and Jimmy Demaret.

TOUGH-LUCK SHOOTER
 The day's tough-luck shooter was Casper, who started out in second place with a nine-under-par 135 but ballooned to a three-over-par 75.

Although De Vicenzo reported the Tam course played slow because of Saturday's heavy rains and a brisk wind, the 45-year-old Snead managed to take it apart with a red-hot putter.

Brilliant approaches saved the day for De Vicenzo in his 36-34 round.

Crooner Don Cherry, with a 73, moved into a first-place tie with Howard Everett, Northfield, N.J., at 220 in the men's amateur division. Heading the women's amateur field by eight strokes was Clifford Ann Creed, 18, Pelousas, La., whose 84 gave her 241.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver shot a 74 Sunday for a score of 71-70-74—215. He was tied with five other players in ninth place.

In the $7,500 women's pro tournament, Jackie Pung of San Francisco Sunday captured outright possession of the third round lead.

Mrs. Pung, who lost the women's national crown last month through disqualification, broke ahead of the field despite a three-over-par 79 over Tam O'Shanter's wind-lashed course. Her 54-hole total was 226, two under the women's par.

MEXICO CITY—Roberto Garcia, 25½, Mexico, outplayed Guillermo Medina, 12½, Venezuela, 10.

ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES signed up for Jaycee swim marathon in Juan de Fuca Strait Sunday, and here lined up for final instructions before Mayor Percy

Surrah officially started the race at Horseshoe Bay Sunday noon. After the gun the competitors began stroking for position, at right, but in contrast to the crowd on both sides here, many swimmers would soon feel a loneliness peculiar to distance swimmers plodding through blackness of a long night. About

FOR HOLIDAY IN SWEDISH HOMELAND

Myra Swam for Money To Send Parents on Trip

By AB KENT A holiday trip to Sweden was the driving force which kept 22-year-old California co-ed Myra Thompson stroking grimly toward Port Angeles in Sunday's Jaycee swim marathon.

But the journey wasn't for herself—it was for her mother and father who were home in San Francisco. She wanted to use the $5,000 prize to send them home to their native Sweden, a cherished dream in the Thompson family. Myra came amazingly close—a mile and a half from the U.S. shore—to achieving her ambition.

But she won $2,500 for the uncompleted swim and it will go to help pay for her parents' trip to Sweden.

And if there's a bit left over it will go to buying home furnishings.

You see, it was disclosed after the swim Myra and her trainer, Victor Anderson, are engaged.

Asked if she'll come back for another swim, Myra passed to Vic who said:

"She'll probably settle down and start raising a family."

SWIM TEACHER

Myra, who had only one long distance swim to her credit before Sunday, is a 134-pound swimming instructor from San Francisco.

Her one big previous effort was 14 miles of a possible 26½ in the Farallones-San Francisco swim last year. She won that one, too, and no one yet has made the full course.

Myra was unfazed by her competition on Sunday—all American fellow countrymen, English Channel swimmers from foreign lands and big competitors in the Atlantic City swim. She outlasted them all.

HER STORY

Myra told about the swim this way:

"I had heard about the swim three weeks ago and got here last Monday. I trained two hours the first day, four hours the next and two hours the next two days in Oak Bay. The temperature was about 57°.

"I was cold (in the Strait), but no colder than I would be any place else exposed that long.

"That's what concerned me most before the swim—not the swimming, but pain from the cold.

"But I didn't think it was too cold."

She lost feeling in her hands very early in the swim, but numbness did not creep.

"I kept looking up to see who was ahead. Ray Taft, my coach, said don't worry about it; we'll pass them up when they get out of the water." It never failed.

"It's a tough swim, the toughest I've been on, but it's only my second long distance swim."

At swim's end Myra's greatest complaint was sore thigh

CHANNEL CHAMP TO TRY STRAIT AFTER GETTING USED TO COLD

Jacques Amyot, 32-year-old swimmer from Quebec City who racked up an English Channel victory in 13 hours and two minutes last year, said today he probably will attempt the Strait of Juan de Fuca next Sunday.

"I may try sometime this week, but it probably will be Sunday," he said. "Right now I'm getting used to the water. I'll be going for about two hours today. I didn't think it would be so cold."

Amyot will make a solo attempt because his application for inclusion in Sunday's mass swim was made too late. He will try to cross the tide-ripped 18.3 miles from Port Angeles to Victoria.

muscles, and she went to sleep with her hands on them as the Champion headed for its berth.

Myra was aware at all times of what she was doing, how she was swimming and how the rest of the field was making out.

She left the water only after discussing the situation with her trainer, coach, and uncle, Felix Eastmark, of Seattle, who also was in the launch.

GETTING NOWHERE

If they had asked her to keep swimming she would have, but all realized an ebb tide was taking her westward away from Ediz Hook and she was getting nowhere.

Although the effort of swimming more than 16 miles through 50-53-degree salt water prevented her from standing or climbing from her launch to the navigating vessel Island Champion, Myra was in "better shape than some" taken out hours earlier, official physician Dr. J. W. Copeman said.

PEA SOUP

In the tub she began to get drowsy with the sudden relaxing atmosphere. One of her first requests was for Swedish pea soup—a favored dish upon which she insists for training, especially if made by her mother.

"She was going on sheer guts and determination, when taken out," Anderson said. Things would have had to be in her favor (the rest of the way)."

Runaway Horse Rams Into Car

Mishaps Mar Shrine Show; Rider Suffers Concussion

An automobile and a horse collided in downtown Victoria Saturday evening.

The accident climaxed a "bad-luck" day and evening for the annual Shrine horse show at Royal Athletic Park. Weather conditions cut down attendance, a young rider suffered concussion, and, after the show, a horse injured itself breaking loose from its trailer.

New Road Through Park Protested

Against a chorus of protests from local residents, city employees today began cutting a 900-foot road across Beacon Hill Park from Douglas to Rupert.

The road, a continuation of Superior Street, is intended to assist traffic proceeding to and from the Legislative Buildings and to effect a proper entrance to the park.

Residents on Heywood, whose property backs onto the new road, complained to city council that 32 trees along the route had been marked for destruction including a stately old oak believed to be 400 years old, near Rupert.

Following those complaints city parks superintendent W. H. Warren and Gordon Stanford of the city engineer's department, made a quick survey of the new road this morning.

"These complaints are based on a misunderstanding," Mr. Warren said afterwards. "Although it is true that 32 trees have been marked, we have no intention of cutting them all down."

"We shall cut down only 10 young trees which are of no particular value to anyone, OLD TREE STAYS

"The ancient oak will certainly not come down."

It is expected cutting of the road will be completed in a few weeks and grading will be finished before the end of the year.

"If the weather is favorable, the road may be black-topped before Christmas," a city employee said.

Backing onto the new road between Douglas and Rupert are the Rainbow Apartments, St. Ann's Primary School and the original log cabin school built by the Sisters of St. Ann, the Athlone Apartments and several private houses.

Tuna Run Seems Sure Say Experts

Federal fisheries officials are convinced today the tuna run is back off the west coast of Vancouver Island, for the first time in seven years.

Despite gale winds off Cape Flattery Saturday and Sunday, a U.S. fisherman reported catching 95 tuna.

The government fisheries vessel CGS Howey, storm-bound in the approaches to Juan de Fuca Strait over the weekend, has taken 81 tuna, on an experimental basis over a wide area.

Main catch reported by the Howey was 100 miles southwest of Cape Beale.

CONDITIONS RIGHT

The U.S. fisherman took his tuna 60 miles south-southwest of Estevan Point.

The federal department of fisheries spokesman at Vancouver said today reports indicate both feeding and water temperature conditions were right for a tuna run.

Two Canadian fish boats are now in the area, rigged for tuna fishing, and others are reported outfitting at Vancouver Island ports.

15-Year-Old Charged In Car Death

Fifteen-year-old Barry Jackson, 2604 Roseberry, was arraigned in city police court this morning on a charge arising out of the car-crash death of Gunnar Stebeck, 13, on July 26.

Young Jackson is charged with criminal neglect resulting in the death of another, thereby committing manslaughter.

Preliminary hearing of the case was set for August 14. The slight, dark-haired boy appeared before Magistrate A. I. Thomas to face the charge, arising when a car stolen by juveniles plunged and crashed over the Dallas Road waterfront.

Police were chasing the car when it rocketed off a 40-foot bank at Cook and Dallas, and plunged to the beach.

Jackson, with two other teenagers, Ray Murdoch and James Lott, was injured in the crash. The fourth, Stebeck, was killed instantly.

Jackson appeared first in juvenile court last week where his case was ordered transferred to police court.

Hees Admits Patricia Bay 'Cramped'

Transport Minister George Hees, on a familiarization tour of DOT installations across Canada, held a 30-minute meeting today with Premier Bennett.

Both men said the talk was informal and covered a wide range of topics.

"We just discussed matters of co-operation between the federal and provincial governments," said the premier. It was on a very friendly basis. There were no decisions."

On his trip Mr. Hees told reporters: "I'm out here to listen and learn, to get an understanding of the operation."

During the morning he inspected the transport department marine depot on Harbor Road and the weather ship Stonetown berthed at the VMD Bay Street Yard.

On the matter of Patricia Bay Airport, Mr. Hees said "it appears that quarters are a little cramped."

Enlargement of facilities would be given "a lot of consideration," he said.

Mr. Hees, accompanied by his deputy minister John Baldwin, will visit Comox Tuesday en route to Prince Rupert.

First Licence For Brewery In 25 Years

First brewer's licence issued in B.C. in 25 years has been granted by the Liquor Control Board to Caribou Brewing Co. Ltd.

The firm plans to build a $500,000 brewery at Prince George. It will sell its product in the northern interior and in the Okanagan.

Although its licence covers the whole province, the firm is not expected to enter the Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island markets, at least at the present time.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Just One of Many Styles

By PENNY SAVER

I'm sure I've found the store that has the widest selection of earrings in town! I was dazzled by the array of glittering jewels in the showcases, but I blinked a few times and managed to note that there's a large variety of earrings for pierced ears at very reasonable prices.

For instance, there are the popular tiny single-jewel studs with gold posts, of imitation rubies, topazes, amethysts, rhinestones, sapphires, and beryl. These are just $1.95.

I also liked delicate, petit point drops outlined with sparkling jewels, and tiny drops of coral and pearls, both priced at $1. There are so many gold and silver filigree earrings it was impossible to pick out the ones I liked best, but you'll find them at $1.

Imitation jade (non-experts like me certainly couldn't tell it isn't real) is used for drop earrings, also at $1, and matching bracelets of squares of jade set in gold are $2.95 and $3.95.

The same store has a variety of novelty salt and pepper shakers. There's a cute pair of perky china robins for just 50 cents.

PIERCED LOOK

Speaking of earrings, there's a new type for those of you who are squeamish about having your ears pierced. They look on your ear as though they go right through the lobe, but actually they have tiny screws at the back. You can't tell the difference when they're on.

You can choose from pearls, colored stones, and gold or silver drops, all at 59 cents.

Individual molds come four to a package, at 29 cents. I'll tell you where I did my shopping today if you call me at 2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Her Marriage Rejuvenated
Due to 8-Week Marathon

Each year at this time I print some of the success-story letters which come to me from readers who joined my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon last January.

I do this because these letters are not only full of human interest but it is always encouraging to learn how others have solved problems which are similar to our own.

Here is one: "Dear Mrs. Lowman, I joined your marathon this year. I had been planning to for at least eight years but every year I would forget to write for the booklet or just lost my determination. This year I really stuck to the routine of diet and exercise."

"I am writing to tell you what a big difference it has made in my life. It has changed my whole outlook and rejuvenated my marriage. I lost 18 pounds in those two short months and inches and inches."

"I realize now that I had become careless about my appearance since I could no longer wear the smart clothes I always had liked. I even was careless about my grooming so far as my hair and skin care are concerned."

"At the end of my marathon I bought some new spring clothes and could hardly wait to have a new hairstyle. As a result of the improvement in my looks I began to have more pep. I felt gay and I had in years. I began accepting invitations which I had avoided before."

You can imagine what such a change in me would do to my husband. He is so proud of me and thinks I am beautiful. Guess I am by contrast! He recently admitted to me that he had decided that I was no longer in love with him since I

BRIDE'S PARENTS REFUSE TO ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE:

My parents strongly disapprove of my fiancé because of his religion. We have been engaged for almost a year and have decided to be married in spite of the objections. We will have a very quiet wedding, but I don't know how the marriage should be announced since my parents refuse to do it. I think that our friends and relatives on both sides should be informed in some way, and wonder if it would be correct if my fiancé's parents issue the announcements. Will you please give the ruling on this or offer any other suggestion? My fiancé and I are both 26.

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

It wouldn't be correct for your fiancé's parents to issue the announcements. You are both of age, so you can do it yourselves. There is one unhappy aspect about it though. You would be making it apparent that your parents disapprove. But on the other hand, you can't be secretive about it, so you might as well take matters in your own hands. I suggest that you hold off as long as you can, just in case your parents relent at least enough to agree to issue the announcements themselves. The phrasing of the engraving should be similar to any conventional marriage announcement. Example: (first line) Miss Elizabeth Marie Graham (second line) and (third line) Mr. Joseph William Perry (fourth line) have the honour of announcing (fifth line) their marriage (sixth line) Saturday, the fourteenth of September

St. Luke's Party Moves Indoors;
Raises $1,850 in Spite of Rain

Rain Saturday afternoon didn't discourage crowd of visitors from attending the annual garden party of St. Luke's Church.

Because of the weather, the party was moved into the church rectory, which has just been vacated by Rev. Canon and Mrs. F. Pike, and stalls set up in every room attracted plenty of customers.

O. R. Blandy, general convenor, reported this morning that proceeds amounted to $1,850. His assistant was Chris Slater.

Rev. T. D. B. Ragg, new incumbent of St. Luke's, flew over from Vancouver with his wife for the party and officiated at the opening.

Tea was served under the direction of Mrs. W. N. McWhinnie, and games and sale of ice cream were arranged by C. Howland and W. V. Hooper.

Stalls included home cooking, convened by Mrs. F. Jefford; superfluities, Mrs. F. W. Midgley; aprons, Mrs. G. C. Kenning; men's wear, Mrs. B. Minty.

Sloping Shoulders Mark
Of Newest Italian Look

FLORENCE, Italy (Reuters)—More than 2,000 models and more than 1,000 hats were presented during a week of showings by Italian high fashion designers in Florence.

When fall and winter come, you will know which well-dressed woman is following the Italian line.

If you meet her in the street she will be wearing a big tweed or wool topcoat in brown or green, such as the one Fouriet who was still recently with Balenciaga in Paris has designed. The shoulders slope down into the new nine-tenths sleeves which meet the long gloves just above the wrist bone.

Her hat will be cloche, worn towards the back of her head and pulled down over her right ear. Any decoration—a bow or a jewel—will be worn over the right ear.

"WIDE-AWAKE" LOOK

The toque with an inverted "V" front, also worn far back and giving the new "wide-awake" look to the face, is the other hat shape she may be wearing.

The wool or tweed dress underneath will have a full or slightly bell-shaped skirt and a plain bodice with rounded neck and three-quarters or nine-tenths sleeves.

The natural waistline will be moulded by an eight-inch corset—either inset into the dress as in a lovely grey flannel by Gregoriana which was faintly bloused and as neatly buttoned as a pageboy, or worn outside like a Victorian corset, as Capucci used on a brown wool alpaca dress with a brown peter-sham corselet.

An attractive way to serve creamed fish is on a bed of green and white parsley rice. To prepare parsley rice, lightly combine fluffy cooked rice and finely chopped parsley in the proportion ¼ cup of chopped parsley to 2 cups of hot rice.

UNKNOWN WINS SWIM

California Girl Mile From Goal;
Picks Up $2,500

Other Pictures, Stories, Pages 8, 9 and 18

A 22-year-old California swimming instructress, making the second start in her life as a marathon swimmer, captured the second annual Victoria-Port Angeles Strait swim in the early hours of this morning.

Myra Thompson won $2,500 first prize for a swim that confounded the experts, and only an adverse tide which pushed her back from within a mile of Ediz Hook prevented her from capturing the full $5,000 prize for the swim.

But she established at least one new record for the now famous Strait by staying in the water 16 hours, 31 minutes, which was nearly four hours longer than ever before.

She was 1.5 miles from the Washington shore when taken out at 4.35 a.m. today. She could have gone on longer, but the tide was taking her out again and her coach decided to call it quits.

All others of the 17 who started the swim had quit four hours previously but Myra staged a dramatic middle-of-the-night effort to cover the full 18.3 miles to Ediz Hook.

The swim started at 12.04 noon, Sunday, from Horseshoe Bay where a crowd estimated at 7,000 gathered.

Second and third places, also won by women, went to Amy Hiland, 36, Long Beach, Calif., $1,250, and Victoria swimmer Billie Benedict, 27, whose total training came to about two hours. She won $750.

Fourth prize, $500, went to Gene Perle, 30, Long Beach lifeguard.

Ben Laughren Out of the Money

Last year winner Ben Laughren, 35, Victoria, finished just out of the money in fifth place. He had set the former record time of 12 hours, 25 minutes, also for an incomplete swim.

If she had completed her swim—thwarted in the pre-dawn half-light a short distance off Ediz Hook—Myra Thompson would have been the first woman to swim the strait north to south.

Striking a consistent 54 per minute, Miss Thompson steadily worked her way from fourth position early in the race, taking the lead gradually as three men ahead of her dropped out one by one.

There were six women and 11 men in the marathon.

Minutes before Myra's team decided she should come out (green flare from her attending vessel was fired at 4.35 a.m.) Jaycees aboard the pilot tug

Island Champion hastily considered paying $5,000 full first prize money if Myra was able to land anywhere on the Washington coast.

Rules state a landing must be within five miles either side of the tip of Ediz Hook, at Port Angeles.

However, with Myra the sole swimmer remaining and an ebb tide carrying her steadily to the westward and likely beyond the five-mile limit, it was discussed that full money might be paid if she was able to make shore.

An executive member later said a full meeting of the Junior Chamber would have been required to authorize such a change.

Total prize money of $10,000 would have been split between first four swimmers if first place had completed the full distance.

However, with an incomplete first, total money was halved.

'Toughest Swim I've Ever Been On'

"It's a tough swim, the toughest I've ever been on," the San Francisco girl said later.

One of the early withdrawals, Paul Herron, 36, Sacramento, described the swim as "about the greatest swim in the world."

People in Port Angeles lit bonfires along Ediz Hook and shouted words of encouragement across the water to Myra Thompson as they spotted the flotilla offshore. They were as disappointed as Victorians that she didn't make it.

Course, laid out by Capt. Ellice Cavin of Island Tug and Barge Ltd.'s Island Champion, the navigation vessel, was designed to attempt a straight-across attack by all swimmers who chose to follow.

Flotilla started on a flood less than a foot in rise, rode an ebb of about the same fall for about six hours and then tried to make headway southward on the new flood into Ediz Hook.

The expected boat failed to materialize, water remained glassy smooth and swimmers remaining at about midnight were progressing strictly through their own efforts.

The next ebb began setting boats and swimmers on the course westward toward the mouth of the Strait.

First casualty was Allan Small, 33, Victoria, who left the marathon at 1.55 p.m. Sunday with a leg cramp and severe headache. He covered about 1.75 miles and was in the water 1 hour, 51 minutes.

Between 3.50 p.m. and 5.40 p.m. five more left the swim, one of them Anita Long, 18, Victoria, who went straight back to Fishermen's wharf instead of checking out through the Champion.

It was estimated she covered two miles in her two hours, 58 minutes in the Strait. This was about average speed for most competitors.

By-Elections
In B.C. Set
For Sept. 9

Voters in three British Columbia ridings will go to the polls Monday, Sept. 9, in a "little provincial election."

An order-in-council and proclamation fixing the polling date in Burnaby, Delta and Cariboo was signed this morning.

Nomination day will be Thursday, Aug. 29.

A four-way fight in each of the ridings is expected.

The Burnaby seat was made vacant by the death last January of veteran CCF member Ernest Winch.

Cariboo riding became vacant in April with the death of Agriculture Minister Ralph Chetwynd.

Delta has been represented since 1952 by Speaker of the House Thomas Irwin, who resigned this spring to enter federal politics. (He won in Burnaby-Richmond.)

Present standing in the legislature is Social Credit 37, CCF 9, Liberal 2, Labor 1, and the three vacant seats, making a total of 52.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE
DENIES VISIT SET

LONDON (AP)—A Buckingham Palace spokesman says there is no visit to Canada on Princess Margaret's agenda.

The News of the World reported Sunday that the princess would pay her first visit to Canada next year to attend centennial ceremonies for the Province of British Columbia.

The palace spokesman said:
"No plans are at present being made for Princess Margaret to visit Canada."

Earlier a spokesman at Government House here and L. J. Wallace, chairman of B.C. Centennial Committee, issued denials that B.C. had received an affirmative reply to its invitation to Princess Margaret to visit B.C. during the centennial year. Police Grab 31 in Crackdown;
Check of Saanich Parks Urged

Wild-driving youths aren't laughing at police any longer.

Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock reported today the force's general crackdown on traffic Saturday night netted 31 violators. Three cars were impounded.

The offences ran all the way from failure to signal turns to one of impaired driving.

Complaints that "wild ones"—irresponsible youths with cars—were laughing at police, brought the remark from Chief Blackstock:

"They don't have anything to laugh about once they're effort had produced the results desired.

He added that no action could be taken to place the wreck of a July 26 death car on the roundabout as an example until the case is completed. A 13-year-old boy was killed when the stolen car plunged off a Dallas cliff after a wild chase.

In Saanich, however, officials were worried about a growing juvenile problem with sharp increases expected in drinking, morals and traffic cases.

Up to a 300 per cent increase in juvenile cases appears in the offering this year compared with 1955.

Yugoslav Chief to Forge Links With Western Socialist Groups

BELGRADE (AP)—President Tito was pictured here today as the spearhead of a new Soviet drive to forge closer links with the non-Communist socialist parties of the West.

Experts on Yugoslav relations indicated this is a major result of Tito's surprise meeting in Romania last week with Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev.

Moscow Radio described the meeting as the firming up of an agreement on "concrete forms of co-operation" between the Communist parties of Russia and Yugoslavia.

Experts here believe Khrushchev went further and agreed to a "new relationship" among socialist parties of the world—non-Communist as well as Communist.

BONDS LOOSESE

They said Khrushchev showed willingness to permit "a greater degree of freedom" for some East European countries and stressed his recognition of the Yugoslav Communist party's full independence from Moscow dictation.

The Tito-Khrushchev meeting was their first since the Soviet boss won his struggle with Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and other Soviet leaders. One of the counts against the Malenkov-Molotov group was that they opposed the reconciliation with Tito.

Observers here saw the new Khrushchev-Tito accord as a move by the Soviet party chief to ally suspiciously held by foreign socialist parties of the Kremlin.

They suggested Tito would occupy a "very important place" in the new set-up on grounds that only he could bring the socialist into the Soviet camp.

BACKFIRED ONCE

Khrushchev made overtures for friendship with the western Socialist parties in the spring of 1956, but his attempt backfired.

Socialist leaders of 14 western countries joined in rejecting any form of political co-operation with the Reds to offer "adequate proof of a genuine change in the principles and policies of Communist dictatorship."

Western diplomats have suggested the latest Tito-Khrushchev meeting could herald the most significant Soviet-Yugoslav accord since Tito broke with Stalin in 1948.

They believe it would go beyond the accord worked out two years ago, when Khrushchev journeyed to Belgrade to apologize for the 1948 rift. Last year's rebellions in Poland and Hungary—and Tito's criticism of the Soviet action—imposed a severe strain on that accord.

Bulganan on Way Out As Russian Premier?

WASHINGTON (AP)—It appears the famous Kremlin travelling pair of "B and K" has lost its "B".

Premier Nikolai Bulganin is not travelling with Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, at least for the time being. He's staying home. Khrushchev went without Bulganin to Romania last week to meet with Yugoslav President Tito. He's going to East Germany soon for an official visit—also without Bulganin.

Has Bulganin's physical health suffered recently, forcing him to take a rest cure, or is his political health poor?

French Gov't In Try to Save Finance Chief

PARIS (Reuters)—France's cabinet today began a race to dredge up new government savings which will stave off the resignation of tough, economy-minded Finance Minister Felix Gaillard.

"Mister Rock," as the 37-year-old finance minister has been dubbed because of his refusal to budge from his original economy program, has left his resignation in the hands of Prime Minister Maurice Bourgès-Maunoury.

He will make it final at the end of this week if other cabinet members have not by then found 50,000,000,000 francs ($14,000,000,000) needed to make up the total out of 600,000,000,000 francs ($1,680,000,000) for which he has called.

Prospects the cabinet will toe Gaillard's line were regarded here as reasonably good.

in three parks and greater use of the paddle in punishing teenage criminals.

Saatchi Reeve Arthur Ash said establishing a 10 or 10.30 curfew in three sludged parks should be considered by the Victoria-Saatchi parks and beaches committee.

He singled out Beaver-Elk Lake, Mount Toimie and Mount Douglas parks as hive-beds of delinquency among juveniles where police are hampered in controlling the situation by dense woods.

Moral offences by juveniles are reported on the upswing in these parks.

"A curfew wouldn't be necessary in the other parks because they are relatively free of that sort of trouble," he added.

Mr. Ash, chairman of the Saatchi police commission, said acquisition of a police "ghost" car would be up to the commission. The car could be used to cut down the highway speeding problem in the municipality.

INCREASE OF 8

Saatchi Police Chief W. A. Pearson reported juvenile cases of all types in 1955 totalled 55. Last year there were 63 cases. This incidence jumped to 82 during the first seven months of the current year including 48 traffic cases involving juveniles, 10 more than recorded in all of 1956.

Chief Pearson advocated greater use of the paddle in punishing juveniles sentenced by courts for offences.

One official said some juveniles have been in the Branran Lake detention home seven or eight times.

"For many of them, they are treated better there than they are at home," the official said. "If they faced the paddle each time they wouldn't be too anxious to return."

Chief Blackstock reported the incidence of juvenile offences in Victoria's parks was relatively small and would not merit curfew restrictions.

War of Nerves By Cuba Rebels

HAVANA (AP)—Partisans of rebel leader Fidel Castro launched a war of nerves today against the government of President Batista.

They broke into hundreds of private telephone conversations in Havana shouting, "We have taken the presidential palace," "long live Fidel Castro."

The interruptions started a flood of rumors that Batista's government had collapsed.

Simultaneously, rebels distributed thousands of leaflets in Havana and nearby towns and cities calling upon Cubans to strike away from work today.

Early reports indicated, however, most workers were flocking back to their jobs through-out Cuba. They faced loss of their jobs if they didn't.

TAKE OVER TV STATION

Artists and technicians at one of Havana's privately owned television stations went on strike and police took over the establishments. These stations and all newspapers have been strongly censored since Batista suspended constitutional guarantees for 45 days.

Batista said: "There won't be any general strike. If it is tried it will be quickly smashed."

He claimed to have defeated rebel plans for a general strike Sunday and decreed that workers would lose their jobs permanently if they failed to report to work by today.

Castro's rebel radio continued broadcasts urging Cubans to strike and gave them instructions on how to make Molotov cocktail bombs to continue widespread sabotage and night bombings.

EXPLOSION KILLS THREE

Army headquarters announced that two persons were killed and three were injured when a bomb explosion destroyed a house in Quantanamo. Headquarters said a quantity of arms was seized.

Batista ordered a crackdown on strike agitators and saboteurs as army and police searched the capital for nine men charged with masterminding the strike move.

2 FATALITIES ON MAINLAND

From CP Dispatches

Two violent deaths were reported in B.C. over the weekend, both on the Mainland.

At Port Moody, William Garrison, 42 of Burnaby was drowned when he fell from a scow carrying 100 picnickers. The scow being towed by a tug, had taken the holidayers to Wigwam Inn at the head of Burrard Inlet.

A man being flown to Vancouver from Terrace for treatment of a broken neck died on the plane 40 minutes before it landed Saturday night.

He was identified as Albert Doust, a native Indian of Hazelton who was injured late in July when his wagon overturned near his home. His wife Helen was killed in the accident.

Khrushchev Pledges Security for Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A pro-Socialist newspaper says in a dispatch from Moscow that Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev has guaranteed Syrian security.

The dispatch to the Daily Alrain Alam quoted Khrushchev as telling a Syrian government delegation "You can be sure Syria's security is guaranteed. The Soviet Union will not allow or tolerate any aggression against Syria."

The Russian leader made the statement when the delegation headed by acting Syrian Defence Minister Khaled El Azm "referred to Israel and colonialist anti-Syrian aggressive intentions," assistant chief editor Jubran Korya wrote.

Korya said Soviet Premier Bulganin and Defence Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov were present when Khrushchev gave the assurance at a recent Kremlin meeting. Communist nations have been supplying military equipment and, advisers to Syria since shortly after Egypt closed an arms deal with Russia in 1955.

A favorite, Jason Giranos, 47, Athens, Greece, turned into a disappointment when he came out with paralysis from the waist down at 3.35 p.m.

Paul Herron, 36, Sacramento, Mass., who led almost from the start, then Gene Perle, 30, Long Beach, overtook both of them.

He held first place from about 3 p.m. to 10.25 p.m. when he was forced out by delirium.

He said later his mistake was in overtaking his friend Heron and Grover.

"I sure wanted to win. Everybody does," said Perle. "I know where I made my mistake. I should have laid back behind Grover and Herron. I couldn't stand to see them in front of me."

"They were battling it out and I just poured it on. I should have held' to 49 strokes. I was doing 56-58. . . I was stupid. I should have swum my own race."

Fred Rogers, 31, South San Francisco, said when he came out at 3.09 p.m. "I could feel the cold going right through me. My arms were just getting heavier and heavier. . . So I figured since I'm here for the money and I was so far behind I might as well quit." He was about four miles off Beacon Hill.

He wants to try again.

Myra and Amy Hiland, who stroked at about 58 per minute, stayed tied for second for a while, with Ben Laughren and Billie Benedict in fourth and fifth for a good part of the afternoon.

Ann Burian, 44, Vancouver, and Janice White, 20, Detroit, brought up the rear.

'Litterbugs' Don't Exist In German Parks

Victoria and other North American cities should follow the example of Germany in keeping their parks free from vandalism and "litterbugging," it was stated at the International Northwest Parks Association convention here.

"All North American cities can learn from Germany in this respect," Tom Lantz, superintendent of public recreation in the Tacoma metropolitan park district, told the convention.

Recalling a trip to Germany in 1952, Mr. Lantz said: "You would never see a person dropping even a used match in any of the parks I visited. There was absolutely no litter and no vandalism."

BISHOP, Calif. (AP)—A team of skilled mountain climbers Sunday recovered the body of a 20-year-old hiker from the base of a 600-foot precipice high in the Sierra Nevada. The body of Walter Gric of Washington, D.C., was placed in a basket and brought out of the high country on the back of a mule.

Seaway Route Voyage For Mayflower Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Mayflower II sails up the route of the St. Lawrence Seaway to visit great lakes ports, it will do so with the blessing of the state department.

But the future owners of the vessel wonder who will pay for the voyage.

Senator Charles E. Potter (Rep. Mich.), who last month proposed the seaway trip for the replica of the pilgrim ship, Saturday released a letter from Christian A. Herter, undersecretary of state, endorsing the idea.

At Martha's Vineyard, Mass., Henry Hornblower II, president of Plymouth Plantation, Inc., to which the vessel is scheduled to be presented, said his group had been consulted.

"Everyone seems to want the Mayflower," Hornblower said. But there's been no talk of who will pay for the trip."

The state department said that once the trip becomes definite it should be co-ordinated with Canada.

The Mayflower II now is on exhibit in New York harbour. The vessel sailed from England to Plymouth, Mass., earlier this year.
